ODDS ON TECH TO WIN

Today

State Socialism.
Wise General Electric.
"Come, See Me Die."
Tamerlane's Skulls.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1928)

OTTO H. KAHN says truly, "An amusing incident in politics is the complete misunderstanding of Herbert Hoover's statement that the Democratic program is a program of 'government socialism.'"

Democrats accuse Hoover of calling Gov. Smith a Socialist, And Gov. Smith repels the accusation eloquently.

"As a matter of fact, Mr. Hoover made no reference to Socialism, as ordinarily understood. He referred in plain words to 'state socialism' established by Bismarck to combat real socialism.

"Mr. Hoover compared the Democratic program of paternalism to the 'state socialism.' That puts unemployed men on the 'dole' in England, and that Bismarck devised to fight real socialism."

NEVERTHELESS, a large percentage of Democrats will always believe that Hoover called Smith a Socialist. It is not sufficient to use terms correctly, you must foresee how others will interpret them.

MR. SWOPE and his General Electric Company apparently made a better deal with Russia recently than was supposed. Russia bought $25,000,000 worth of electrical equipment from the General Electric, and Russia arranged with the General Electric to include a sum sufficient to make up for General Electric properties confiscated by Bolshevism.

Berlin says it is a convenient way to settle the General Electric claims without "establishing a precedent."

Swope probably doesn't care how it is done.

IN Huntsville, Tex., "Bo" Silver invited his friends to see him "sit down in the chair."

At the last minute Gov. Moody commuted his sentence to life imprisonment.

"Bo" remarked, "My friends sure missed a wonderful party."

MEN sentenced to death frequently issue invitations for their last appearance. Carlisle Harris, a young medical student who murdered his wife, requested a newspaper acquaintance to see him die and tell his mother all about it.

WHEN Tamerlane ruled in Asia, he had a habit, after taking a city, of cutting off heads of soldiers and other inhabitants and building them into pyramids. When they dried into skulls, he had them lighted up from the inside as a warning to his enemies.

BOOTLEG whisky builds its pyramids of coffins, not skulls. In New York yesterday 18 miserable victims of bootleg poison whisky, each in a pine box, were piled up on the deck of the Municipal ferryboat Colonel Clayton, bound for the Potter's Field. There they rest, a warning that will not be heeded.

FROM the Atlantic to the Pacific the airplane "Yankee Doodle" flew in 24 hours, 51 minutes. If a light airplane can do that now, at the beginning of aviation, how long will it take fully developed planes to cross this continent? Those living will cross in six hours and less. Railroads operating trans-continental passenger lines take notice.

IN THE past three months General Motors has earned $79,266,639. In nine months that gigantic company has earned $240,534,613, more in nine months than in any 12 months previous.

SOME time ago, before General Motors made its gigantic stock distribution, a speculator sitting in a broker's office on the third floor of New York's Ritz Tower, was heard to say repeatedly, "Sell a thousand General Motors at 125."

THIS writer said then to the owner of the Ritz Tower broker's office: "That customer of yours will pay a nice profit to somebody when he buys that stock back."

Don't gamble and DONT SELL SHORT.

A GERMAN convict, Edgar Heldge, showed extraordinary powers of endurance and desperate courage before being shot to death in a room where he had taken refuge.

He continued doggedly fighting policemen, protected by steel shields, until he sank to the floor, a dozen bullets in his body. He wrote to his mother, "Goodby, I shall see you in heaven, for, although I am a murderer, I am not bad."

CHARLES M. SCHWAB, who was born cheerful and has never changed, tells the American Iron and Steel Institute, "America's prosperity will go to a height far above anything yet experienced."

That is putting it mildly. The greatest American cities will see land sell for $1,000 a square foot and be cheap at the price. Some low-priced stock now within reach of small buyers will go to $500 a share and higher. Also some high-priced stock will go lower. So don't gamble.

ZEPPELIN GROOMED FOR START SUNDAY

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—The officers and crew of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin today prepared for their return trip to Germany with prospects favorable for a start tomorrow.

Cancellation of the mid-west trip, caused by adverse winds at the field here and prospects of unfavorable weather over the proposed route, permits a start on the return voyage within the two weeks limit set by Dr. Hugo Eckener on his arrival.

Although Dr. Eckener said the start might not be made until Monday or Tuesday, depending on weather conditions, the ground crew at the Naval station was given orders to stand by at 5 p. m. tomorrow afternoon. Because of her cramped quarters in the big hangar

NO FORNEY PARDON; MUST STAY IN JAIL

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Department of Justice officials today were prepared to drop further consideration of the application for pardon in behalf of Alfred W. Forney, convicted slot-machine racketeer, following a conference between Attorney General John S. Sargent and United States District Attorney John D. Meyer, of Pittsburgh.

Forney, as a result, seems certain to serve out the remainder of his six months' sentence in the Allegheny County Jail, where he was committed by the Federal Court for the Western District of Pennsyl-

HORNSBY SIGNS WITH CUBS, PAPER SAYS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The New York Sun in an article said today that Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Boston Braves last year, had signed a three-year contract with the Chicago Cubs.

The deal was consumated a week ago in New York, the story says, and the Cubs will give Boston $200,000 and outfielders Earl Webb and Cliff Heathcote and Infielder Fred Maguire in exchange for Hornsby.

Hornsby was given a $25,000 bonus for signing, the story said.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—William Veeck, president of the Chicago National League Baseball Club, today denied a published story to the effect that Rogers Hornsby, star slugger of the Boston Braves, has signed a new contract to play second base for the Cubs for the next three years and that three Chicago players would go to Boston.

ONE JAILED IN POLICE EVIDENCE THEFT

Whatever investigation city police officials are making into the theft of two extortion confessions from the city detective bureau, county authorities today jailed the man said to have sold the confessions for $2,000.

That man was Bobbie White, described as a North Side bootlegger. He was brought in on the order of Assistant District Attorney Andrew T. Park. Today he was the target for a barrage of pertinent questions directed by Park.

White's address is 3406 California avenue.

White's part, so it is charged, was this: The thief "gave" him the confessions and he sold them to the five defendants implicated by the papers.

Those five defendants were Justice of the Peace C. J. Ranshaw, of Neville township, and four constables, Raymond Bengle, Frank Marz, Paul Sweeney and J. V. Groom. Marz and Bengle made the confessions and despite the absence of them from the trial, the five were found guilty in Criminal Court Thursday. After the verdict was brought in they voluntarily told of having bought back the confessions.

CONNORS QUIZZED

City Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh started his investigation yesterday. He ordered Inspector Charles Faulkner to get a report on the case from Patrolman Peter C. Connors, who, as a detective, helped to win the confessions. That order had not been carried out at 11:15 a. m. today, it was learned at North Side Police Station.

Connors told this newspaper yesterday that his last look at the confessions was at the police court hearing several months ago when the defendants were held for court. Connors said City Detective P. E. (Hap) Moran, who has since been fired, took the papers from the hearing. Moran told the Sun-Telegraph he had not taken them.

After the grilling of White today, Assistant District Attorney Park said he was not satisfied with White's explanation and he had him escorted to the county jail on a district attorney's detainer order.

Park admitted the theft of the evidence had been known and that he was waiting until after the trial to take action. He said all arrests necessary to clear the mystery will be made and the entire matter will be the first schedule of business when the grand jury reconvenes next week.

Park said that the five defendants will voluntarily tell the grand jury all they know of the theft of the records and the $2,000 bribe. Connors also said that he is willing to tell the grand jury just what he knows of the matter.

Counsel for the five defendants yesterday made a formal petition to the court asking that the men be released on bail pending the motion for a new trial. Judge James H. Gray, who heard the request, made no disposition and is expected to hold a conference today with District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner.

TO WRITE STORIES

Lady Grace Drummond Hay, titled Briton who came as the only woman aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its flight to America, today prepares to go back to Germany when the great dirigible takes off tomorrow from Lakehurst. Lady Hay, who told the story of her sea flight exclusively here in the Sun-Telegraph, will again give Sun-Telegraph readers exclusive stories of her hazardous return trip. Here, she leans from the Zeppelin's cabin.

CITY MAGISTRATES ESCAPE PROBE NOW

None of the city magistrates is yet in danger of facing a grand jury inquisition for failure to enforce the law. That was the situation described by District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner last night after he had been quoted as announcing an intention to call Magistrates George H. England and William J. T. Soost.

"I have no such plans at present," Gardner said. "I can't say that I won't call the magistrates, but I haven't said that I would, either."

Gardner made it plain that he had not yet given special attention to the fertile field for inquiry provided by the licensing of vice in the city's police courts. He has admitted that the magistrates nullify the law by freeing Snyder act violators, gamblers, and brothel inmates, but up to today he had no intention of correcting the situation.

His assistants are working upon a presentment of the grand jury's findings thus far, Gardner said. He declared he had no specific plans for the conduct of the probe after the jury reconvenes to take testimony November 7, and that he was putting all his attention on the work of preparing to indict about 200 racketeers and conniving officials.

BET 3 TO 1 HOOVER WINS CITY, COUNTY

If betting odds mean anything, Herbert Hoover will carry Pittsburgh and Allegheny county. Booking agents in the downtown district—some still are operating notwithstanding the federal and county grand jury probes of graft and bootlegging—today quoted Hoover the favorite.

One "bookie" with a suite of rooms in a Fifth avenue building, is laying odds of two and a half to one that Hoover carries the city and county. Another, a little more daring, offers three to one that Smith loses both the city and county.

Smith money, the bookies say, is scarce. A few small bets have been placed.

"I don't know whether the Smith boys are short of coin or waiting until the eleventh hour to place bets," one of the "bookies" said. "So far, betting on the outcome has been dead."

Leaders of both parties are claiming the city and county. At Democratic headquarters, a political leader said:

"Things are looking brighter and with the city already in the bag for Smith, hopes of bringing the county into the Smith column looks promising. Yes, sir, the city is now in the bag for Gov. Al."

W. H. Coleman, chairman of the Republican campaign committee, thinks differently.

"They are talking through their brown derbies when they claim the city," Coleman said, referring to the Democrats. "Why, Hoover will carry the city by not less

PITT "UNDER DOG;" 55,000 FLOCK TO STADIUM

With the Carnegie Tech Tartans reigning favorites to cop the annual city championship football battle with Pitt in the Panther stadium this afternoon, a crowd, which is expected to amount to more than 55,000 by game time, started wending its way into the bowl this morning. Both teams were in the veritable pink of condition for the fray, and the fight between Wally Steffen's well-oiled, undefeated machine and Jock Sutherland's Blue and Gold outfit is expected to wax furious before all is said and done.

Cohorts of each school had a little warfare of their own, featured by fist-fights and free-for-all scrambles, last night, when students met in Oakland avenue; but before the dawn they called a truce and hunted up a restaurant where they satisfied their appetites together.

USE TEAR BOMBS

Police were compelled to use tear bombs to disperse several of the fights and it remained for student leaders to bring about peace. Capt. Andrew Charles and Sergt. Al Heineman of the Oakland station kept a score of men on duty all night answering one riot call after another.

An additional 1,300 seats will be put on sale just prior to game-time in order to give those who have not made reservations a chance to see the battle. The crowd is expected to outdo any previous one between the schools, and set a new attendance record.

At 11 o'clock last night the first police squad hied to Tech campus near the United States Bureau of Mines Building on Forbes street, where Tech students were celebrating, and upon arrival immediately called for aid. A second squad brought tear bombs and riot maces. Then there was a lot of weeping, and the boys dispersed. There was no use for the maces.

FUN BEGINS

A half hour later a mob of Tech students stormed the Highway laboratory at the university, where the lights have been flashing on the "Beat Tech" sign posted on the walls of the building. Engineering students of Pitt were inside the building on guard, having expected such an attack. Battering rams were hurled against the doors, and within a few moments the two bodies of students were milling about in hand-to-hand fight, armed with pieces of hose and pipes.

During the fight Russell T. Jones, president of the Pitt Engineering Association, was cut on the forehead, and several other youths were knocked out.

Jones was hurried into the building along with one of the Tech leaders who had been taken prisoner. While police were breaking up the battle on the outside, the two leaders decided to end all hostilities and celebrate together.

A half hour later the friendly enemies marched into a Fifth avenue restaurant downtown, their sweaters torn, their faces stained with blood and covered with dirt. While waitresses tried in vain to serve them, the students spent a half hour cheering one another.

Pitt's Holiday Plans Beset By "Ifs"

A big parade of "IFS" stands between University of Pittsburgh students and a holiday. If Pitt beats Tech today there will be a holiday Monday. But if Pitt fails to win there will be no holiday until the Monday following the game with Syracuse. And again that holiday depends on the ever present bugaboo, IF —if Pitt beats Syracuse.

The students are permitted one holiday a year to celebrate football victories. The day is set by the Student Council, and this year it has been designated as Monday, with an option on the Monday following the Syracuse game if Tech is victor today.

But "no victory no holiday," is the rule of the University Council.

Missing Rum Ring Defendant Seized At Masquerade

Recognized by a government under-cover operative at a Halloween party in the North Side as one of the missing defendants in the Federal grand jury rum conspiracy probe, James M. Kelly, 214 Boulevard of the Allies, was arrested when he left the party and entered a Federal street restaurant last night. He was indicted, prohibition officials said, under the name of "Murph" Kelly.

Kelly's masquerade costume did not save him from the eyes of the government officer, who, upon making the discovery, telephoned to Joseph A. Frayne, assistant administrator, who detailed two prohibition agents to the party. When Kelly left in company with a young woman, they trailed him to the restaurant, where they placed him under arrest.

His wife and two children are left the income of the estate of Lawrence E. Sands, 5575 Aylesboro avenue, president of the First National Bank at Pittsburgh, who died October 19. His will was probated today.

The testator's personal property is placed at upwards of $500,000. No estimate is given of realty. The entire estate is left, in trust, to his son, John W. Sands, and the Peoples Savings and Trust Company. The son and a daughter, Mrs. Mary V. Paull, are to receive $2,000 a year each during the lifetime of their mother, she to receive the remainder of the income. At her death the estate goes in equal shares to son and daughter.

John W. Sands and the Peoples Savings and Trust Company are named executors. The will bore date of April 1, 1925.

SMITH STARTS HIS PA. INVASION TONIGHT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The fourth and final phase of Gov. Al Smith's thrust for the presidency opens today in the ancient Republican stronghold of Pennsylvania.

The West, with its big sectional problem of farm relief; the border states, where the religious and prohibition issues flame brightest; and New England, where industrial conditions are possibly worse than anywhere else in the country, are now behind him. Gov. Smith has campaigned them all—and he is confident.

He begins his 10 days' conquest of the Middle Atlantic states, with their hodge-podge of issues, today in a hopeful and satisfied frame of mind.

"SOMETHING IN AIR"

"Something is in the air," he told reporters. By that he meant that as a veteran campaigner he sensed a trend in his direction. It is inconceivable to him, he said, that the hundreds of thousands of people who have come out to cheer him in the last few days are going to limit their support to mere cheers. He thinks they will say it with votes on November 6, as well.

Gov. Smith considers that the speech of his opponent, Herbert Hoover, at Madison Square Garden, last Monday night, is the turning point of the campaign. In that speech, Mr. Hoover characterized Gov. Smith's ideas on farm relief, water power control, and prohibition as "state socialism."

Since that speech, Senator George W. Norris, the Nebraska Progressive leader, and Senator "Young Bob" LaFollette, in Wisconsin, have indorsed the Smith candidacy.

GAINS THREE STATES

To Gov. Smith this Progressive support in the West and Northwest means Nebraska, Wisconsin, North Dakota and possibly Minnesota won over to his side.

In any event the Democratic nominee leaves New York today for his final thrust in the Middle Atlantic States—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and his own New York—hopeful and exceedingly confident. For the next 10 days his activities and his speeches will be confined to this quartet of states whose electoral votes total 105.

The Governor will make his bid for Pennsylvania tonight with a speech in Philadelphia, possibly the most consistent Republican city in the entire country. He will speak there at the arena tonight after a parade through the city and advance indications are that, however, Republican the city may be, it is nevertheless going to give "Al" a great reception.

$8,000,000 COLLEGE BOND ISSUE PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Further evidence that the people of the State are favoring adequate support for higher public education comes in the approval of the State College $8,000,000 bond issue by the Congress of Parents and Teachers, held recently at Easton, James Milholland, chairman of the State College educational campaign in Allegheny county, announced today.

Following similar action in recent weeks by the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, the State Education Association, American Legion, the State Grange and many business and farmer organizations, Mr. Milholland declared that prospects for the passage of the college bond issue as Amendment No. 2 are extremely bright.

Resolutions passed at the Congress of Parent and Teachers declared that the college, through lack of sufficient appropiation in past years has not developed to meet the demand for higher education, especially for the housing and education of the young women of the State.

The public position of the college was noted, and it was explained to the congress that for many years only one of every three girl applicants has been able to gain admission to the freshman class.

Compared with other state colleges and universities Penn State ranks among the lowest in proportion of the number of women students enrolled, there being only about 600 at this time, while 20 years ago there were but three women students.

It is mainly because of interest shown in the college by the women's clubs of the State that this department of college has been able to grow to its present size, Mr. Milholland explains.

It is reported from the college that of the 160 freshmen girls admitted this fall, only 45 could be housed in the dormitories and cottages on the campus. Others had to find rooms in the town in supervised rooming houses.

Ax Slayer Gets New Trial

Detailing why he had permitted a wife to testify against her husband in a murder trial, Judge Charles M. Culver, of Bradford county, handed down an opinion in Criminal Court here yesterday granting a new trial to Thomas Terihaj, 1507 Blevins street, North Side ax killer, convicted in the first degree, with life imprisonment as the penalty.

The judge averred he had not erred in allowing the wife to testify, but granted a new trial to allow another jury to pass upon conflicting testimony of the commonwealth witnesses.

Terihaj killed Stephen Cenkovich, 36, 1414 Hopkins street, September 17, 1927, and was found guilty March 14. Testimony showed the men had been drinking together at Terihaj's home. The latter went to the grocery and on his return found Cenkovich and Terihaj's wife together in an upper room. He attacked Cenkovich with an ax, fracturing his skull. His wife received a hatchet cut on the shoulder.

FORNEY MUST STAY IN JAIL

vania on a charge of violating the national prohibition laws.

District Attorney Meyer came to Washington Friday to withdraw a recommendation previously filed by him with the department in favor of Forney's release. This he did during a personal call on Attorney General Sargent, with whom he discussed the case.

PLANS CHANGED

While no official statement was forthcoming in explanation of Meyer's action, it is understood that he was prompted to reverse his former position because of changed plans for using the millionaire racketeer in further Allegheny county prosecutions.

His initial recommendations for a pardon was made with the hope that Forney thereby might be persuaded to offer valuable testimony in the pending prosecutions.

Regardless of Meyer's latest stand however, it is doubtful whether the department ever seriously considered recommending a pardon to President Coolidge, the final authority. This is due to the large number of protests that have been forwarded to the department since the racketeer's release was first proposed.

The department, in keeping with its set policy, has declined to make known the names and number of those opposing a pardon, but it reported that they are quite extensive, coming from ministers and civic leaders.

PENNINGTON OPPOSED

Prohibition Administrator Pennington, of Pittsburgh, is one of those vigorously opposing the pardon. Treasury officials are understood to have backed him up with an even stronger protest.

So far as is known, Attorney General Sargent is the only government official with whom Meyer discussed the case. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who called at the Justice Department earlier this week to intercede in behalf of Forney, was out of the city, while Congressman Guy Campbell, of Pittsburgh, who accompanied the Labor Department head on his mission, declared that Mr. Meyer had not communicated with him.

DISCUSS POSTOFFICE

After leaving the Department of Justice District Attorney Meyer held an extended conference with officials in the office of the supervising architect of the Treasury regarding plans for the new Federal Building at Pittsburgh. He protested against the present plans for the structure with respect to Federal Court accommodations and in consequence was given to believe that drawings for the interior of the building will be changed.

Before final drawings are approved, however, officials of the department are expected to go to Pittsburgh for a conference with representatives of the various Federal agencies to be housed. This is in keeping with a plan suggested by Congressman Stephen G. Porter, of Pittsburgh, who has been active in having the $6,000,000 structure made suitable and satisfactory in the fullest degree.

Drawings now call for a nine-story building with three wings. It had been planned to have court rooms, the district attorneys office and the United States marshal's office in separate wings on different floors.

It is Meyer's idea to have the design changed so that the building will be constructed around a hollow square with the activities of the Federal Court centered on the same floor in a manner to prompt closer co-operation and greater convenience. Plans for other Federal activities will necessarily be affected by this change, which the department has given evidence of adopting.

Post Office Department officials have already worked out their space requirements. The first four floors would be given over to their needs.

Preliminary sketches now under study call for the structure to extend the full nine stories only in the center, with the end wings to be limited to four stories. A solid front would be presented on Grant street and Seventh avenue, with the wings in the rear.

COMMISSIONERS TO ACT ON ILLEGAL VOTE SIGNS

Objectors to Hoover-Curtis placards on windows and walls of the Court House, today, are awaiting a decision from county commissioners to a petition for the removal of the partisan advertising pictures.

The presence of the placards on any city or county-owned building is a direct violation of an act of Assembly.

Considerable resentment against the political posters has been expressed during the campaign, but no formal petition to recognized authorities was made until yesterday, when a committee from the Italian division of the Democratic state organization appealed to County Commissioner Edward V. Babcock.

Attorney Conrad H. Checco, spokesman for the delegation, said Babcock advised the committee to wait until November 7, the day after election day, and the pictures would disappear.

Checco said his colleagues wanted the advertising removed at once, as the Court House is owned and maintained by taxpayers of all parties, but Babcock was quoted as saying he would not take them down himself.

The petitioners explained they did not expect Babcock to do the actual removing of the posters, but felt it was reasonable to ask the Commissioner to order the placards taken down.

Babcock was said to have demurred with the remark that the Court House was the Republicans' home.

Pressed for a decision, Babcock said he would confer with Joseph G. Armstrong, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and give the objectors an answer today.

Checco said his committee had abandoned the idea of submitting a similar request to Mayor Charles H. Kline when the members found there were no objectionable pictures defacing windows and walls of offices under the city's jurisdiction.

than 15,000 majority with a possibility of a 25,000 majority. In the county everything is rosy. We will lead by not less than 35,000 majority with a possible of 45,000 majority," Coleman said.

"With Senator George W. Norris in the fold, Smith will receive the Progressive vote in the city and county," the Democratic leader predicted. "Smith is gaining by leaps and bounds, since Norris decided to support Gov. Smith. We will win hands down."

"All hokum," the Republican chairman said. "Hoover will receive as many if not more Progressive votes here than Smith. I know what I am talking about."

Ambridge Gets New Plant

The A. M. Byers Company is planning a new $25,000,000 plant for iron pipe manufacture at Ambridge, it was learned last night. This proposition is part of a plan, it was said, to have the Byers company produce wrought iron under the Ashton process and run it hot into the Spang, Chalfant and Company plant for manufacturing seamless pipe.

The planned mill is to be located alongside the seamless tube plant of the Spang, Chalfant and Company, and it is believed that the double arrangement will cut the cost of producing seamless pipe. Such a plan caused rumors to rise that a merger between the two companies was being planned, but this was denied by George Fisher, president of the Spang, Chalfant and Company last night.

ZEP GROOMED FOR FLIGHT

here, with the Los Angeles and two naval blimps occupying the same quarters, any cross hangar wind makes hazardous the task of walking her out onto the field.

As soon as the cancellation of the mid-west journey was announced the task of refueling the Zeppelin was begun.

Three refueling crews of 14 men each, working in eight hour shifts, were put to work pumping 735,000 cubic feet of Blau gas and 140,000 cubic feet of hydrogen into her fuel and lift cells. Lieut. Commander Wicks, U. S. N., estimated the Zeppelin would be ready to sail by noon tomorrow.

The cold weather has made necessary an extra precaution, 50 gallons of anti-freeze solution being loaded aboard for use in her engine radiators and water ballast tanks.

When she starts her return voyage she will carry a load of 15 tons, which includes passengers, mail and ballast.

Although the Graf Zeppelin will carry enough fuel for 120 cruising hours at full speed, the return voyage is expected to take only 50 to 60 hours as compared to 111 hours and a half for the journey to America. Cruising the great circle route she will cut almost 2,500 miles from the 6,300 she was forced to travel dodging storms and adverse winds on her East-West passage.

Passengers who have signed for the return trip to Germany, five of them Americans, were elated over the prospects of an early start. Most of them were making preparations today for sending their luggage to Lakehurst to be placed aboard the Zeppelin.

The Graf Zeppelin expects to make another trip to the United States this year, within a month if possible, her officers said. On that trip she may make her promised tour of the Mid-West.

$2,000 LOOT TAKEN IN MEADVILLE STORE

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—It developed, when the Whitling Clothing Store at Cochranton, near here, was opened yesterday that thieves had entered the place and taken $2,000 worth of clothing. Among the goods stolen were 75 suits.

BUTLER WIFE-KILLING HELD ACCIDENT

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 27.—Attorney E. S. Negley, of Butler, who has been retained to defend Earl Jones, 38, charged with the murder of his wife, Nellie Adams Jones, 33, says that his client will testify that at no time did he have in his hands the revolver which discharged the bullet that killed the woman in their bedroom Friday night of last week.

Jones will be arraigned Tuesday before Alderman Carl G. Phillips, before whom detectives preferred the charge of murder. Attorney Negley said he was undecided whether he would ask for a preliminary hearing. Coroner William F. Pohl has not yet set a date for the inquest.

According to the statement made by Attorney Negley late yesterday afternoon, Jones claims that his wife grabbed the revolver from the dresser in the room, flourished it at him, and that he seized her to protect himself. In the scuffle, Jones says, the gun was discharged.

Jones said in the "confession" given out by County Detective Frank T. Wigton and Sheriff S. M. Leslie that he and his wife had quarreled several days before the shooting. Attorney Negley says that Jones charges that Mrs. Jones had threatened his life a number of times within several months.

A jury may be empaneled soon to determine whether the few bones found in the burned farm house on the old Patterson farm, six miles southeast of Butler, are what is left of the body of Mrs. Jones. The procedure will be to issue a certificate to District Attorney Charles S. Miller, who would act in bringing the case before a grand jury.

The death of Judge John R. Henninger Wednesday night has somewhat complicated the work of the Butler court, and action on the Jones murder charge may be slow until a judge is named by Gov. John S. Fisher, or a visiting judge is assigned to temporary duty here.

EX-SOLICITOR O'BRIEN DIES SUDDENLY

Attorney Charles A. O'Brien, former city solicitor, one of the oldest members of the Allegheny County Bar Association, died early today at his home in Dormont. Mr. O'Brien, who would have been 75 next November 27, was at his office yesterday. Last night he complained of a heart attack and at 7:35 a. m. he died.

Mr. O'Brien never had been ill until two years ago. Since then his health had been failing. He was, however, active in his law practice all the while.

Mr. O'Brien was city solicitor under three administrations. Mayor William Magee first appointed him in 1909, and he served until 1921, reappointed by Mayors Joseph G. Armstrong and E. V. Babcock.

COURTS PAY TRIBUTE

Announcement of the late barrister's death was made in Common Pleas Court by Assistant City Solicitor Harold M. Irons, a close friend and admirer of Mr. O'Brien, and in Federal Court by Assistant City Solicitor Thomas M. Benner. When those two courts were adjourned at noon today it was out of respect for Attorney O'Brien.

Mr. O'Brien was one of the early settlers in Carrick, born there in 1853, the son of John M. and Jane Nell O'Brien. His father had come to this country from Ireland in 1828.

On December 16, 1876, the young lawyer was admitted to the bar in this county and took up his practice in the office of the late Samuel C. Shoyer. He had been graduated from St. Vincent's College at Wheeling, W. Va.

Mr. O'Brien's Dormont home was at 627 East Shady drive. He maintained a summer home at Brookside Farms, South Hills, and his law office was in the Farmers Deposit National Bank.

Mr. O'Brien was a member of the Pittsburgh Athletic Association and the South Hills Country Club.

He leaves two sons, Alan Nell O'Brien and Charles A. O'Brien, Jr.; a daughter, Elizabeth L. O'Brien, and a sister, Mrs. John Campbell, of Erie.

PLANE TO HOP OFF FOR BERMUDA ISLES SUNDAY

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—A small amphibian plane was being groomed here today for a takeoff tomorrow morning for Bermuda. It will be the first attempt to fly from New York to that island.

In the navigator's seat will be Capt. Harry Lyon, who safely charted the flight of the monoplane Southern Cross from California to Australia via Hawaii and Suva of the Fiji Island group. Capt. W. A. Lancaster, veteran British flier, will be at the controls and the rumor at the field was that Mrs. Keith Miller, an Englishwoman, would be a passenger. Capt. Lancaster and Mrs. Miller flew from England to Australia early in January, coming to the United States with Capt. Lyon on his return from the Southern Cross flight.

Mystery surrounded the preparations for the flight, which have been under way for two months, and the secret was revealed only when Department of Commerce officials started a check of the machine.

Lyon and Lancaster plan to carry 250 gallons of fuel, enough for a round trip. It was explained that they were taking the extra fuel so that if they missed the island on their return flight they would have enough gas left to make the mainland. The distance to Bermuda is 800 miles; the plane, made by the Ireland Aircraft Corporation, is powered with a Wright whirlwind motor and has a speed of 100 miles an hour. It is all metal with open cockpits.

HUGHES BRANDS SMITH WET PLANK "SHAM"

EVE OF BATTLE

Spirit runs high on the University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech campi today. It runs too high and it may flare. For this afternoon, the two varsity football teams clash in the Stadium in Pittsburgh's football feature of the year.

PITT PARADES

SMITH'S WET PLANK SHAM, SAYS HUGHES

BUFFALO, Oct. 27.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith's position on prohibition, water power and farm relief today stands branded as "state socialism," while the Democratic nominee's emphasis on prohibition as an issue carries the label of a "sham battle." The governor's views on these issues were thus characterized here last night by Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state.

Mr. Hughes was greeted by more than 10,000 who jammed their way into the Broadway auditorium. Thousands who were unable to gain admission to the hall were forced to listen to the address through amplifiers.

The demonstration accorded Mr. Hughes as he entered the auditorium was one of the greatest ever staged at a political gathering in Buffalo.

Mr. Hughes said:

"Gov. Smith has advocated the state manufacture, or the state purchase and state distribution and sale, of intoxicating liquors. If this is not the method of state socialism, as stated by Mr. Hoover, I do not know what it is. Certainly Gov. Smith cannot identify me as being associated with any such project and it is obvious that Mr. Hoover is opposed to it, lock, stock and barrel.

"Is Mr. Hoover not right? Of all the ventures which the state could make in expanding its activities and creating a centralization of power, nothing could equal its undertaking the exclusive manufacture, distribution and sale of intoxicating liquors. All the objections to the state's intrusion into business present themselves in their maximum strength in relation to this proposal. Nothing could give such a field for corruption. Imagine Tammany Hall in charge of the exclusive distribution and sale of intoxicating liquors within the city of New York.

"I should not think much better of the effort of the state government, whether Republican or Democratic, to handle directly such an enterprise, but I suppose if it were begun there would be as heretofore, an earnest cry for 'home rule.'

"We have never had complete success in enforcing restrictions with respect to the traffic in intoxicating liquors in New York city. Some of you remember the record of the Lexow investigation many years ago. If you put the state in control of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, you will have either no restrictions at all or else the most widespread corruption and debauching of government.

"Mr. Hoover stated that if the agricultural relief program of his opponents means anything, it means that the government shall directly or indirectly buy and sell and fix prices of agricultural products. Gov. Smith throughout the West seems to have endeavored to give the impression that he is for the sections of the McNary-Haugen bill which necessitates that operation. Perhaps throughout the East he does not wish to give that impression. He should states, once and for all where he stands on this question.

"Is he for the imposition of the equalization fee by the government? Does he not know that it is a component and necessary part of that plan that the government must buy and sell, or appoint agents to buy and sell, farm products on behalf of the government, so as to make the equalization fee effective? If that is his plan, it is the most gigantic program of government in commercial business ever proposed. Certainly those sincere people in the West, who believe in this method, deserve to know where Gov. Smith stands, and the people of the East likewise are entitled to know whether or not this is his program."

OPEN HOSPITAL DRIVE FOR 5 MILLION

The $5,000,000 appeal of Allegheny General Hospital was formally opened last night at a dinner in the William Penn Hotel at which 800 hospital workers were present.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Brooklyn, was the principal speaker. It was announced at the dinner that $3,000,000, or three-fifths of the quota, has already been raised.

Dr. Cadman was introduced by Dr. Maitland Alexander, who presided. Dr. Alexander also introduced Dr. S. S. Goldwater, hospital planning consultant, and Dr. Otto C. Gaub, head of the hospital surgical staff. The addresses were broadcast by radio.

Of the $3,000,000 already raised, $2,000,000 was contributed by members of the board of directors; more than $100,000 by the hospital staff and $25,000 by the nurses. A lower quota had been assigned to the staff, but members volunteered to raise their subscriptions.

Dr. Cadman said that Pittsburgh is essentially an industrial community and the hazards of living are many and great here. This means that a social obligation lies upon everyone here to give themselves a means to alleviate in some measure the toil of life. He said the sum of two million dollars yet to be raised is small in comparison with what it will bring to the city.

Dr. Goldwater, who helped to plan the proposed hospital, pointed out its features and said that it would be one of the best in the country. A dozen leaders of the various groups working for the hospital also spoke. They gave final instructions to their teams to start work today in raising the money.

HUNT ESCAPED CONVICT IN CHICAGO GHETTO

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Search for John Dempsey, under 50-year sentence for the slaying of Patrolman William O'Connor, who escaped from the bullpen in Criminal Court here, sent squads of detectives into Chicago's Ghetto.

Dempsey was returned here from Joliet prison yesterday as a witness in the case of Earl Woodward and John Ogorzelo, on trial for robbery.

Early yesterday afternoon Dempsey was taken to the bullpen to await call to the witness stand. When a court attache went to summon him he found an empty cell.

Dempsey had volunteered to appear in court and admit the robbery charged to Woodward and Ogorzelo. Authorities are of the opinion that Dempsey had plotted his escape for several months.

DEMOCRATS TO PARADE WITH REED HERE

An old-fashioned political rally is scheduled for tonight in connection with the appearance in Pittsburgh of United States Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, speaking at the Gayety Theater about 9 o'clock, after the address of Gov. Alfred E. Smith is completed over the air to the audience.

Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence declared that it will be the greatest Democratic rally in the history of the county, with the tune, "Sidewalks" ushering the fiery Senator from his hotel to the theater along the streets of Pittsburgh. An arrangement has been made to permit an overflow audience to hear the radio address and the talk of Senator Reed in the lobby of the theater and in Duquesne way alongside the theater.

Chairman Lawrence, who will preside, stated today that a radio and loud speaker will be installed on the stage of the theater. He will introduce George H. Stengel, former Republican register of wills of Allegheny County, who will present Senator Reed.

Gov. Alfred E. Smith "is the outspoken champion of the human welfare of the common people," it was declared last night by Robert V. Sant Angelo, assistant district attorney of New York City, speaking at a mass meeting in the Peabody High School.

Democratic meetings will be held tonight at Winebiddle and Penn avenue; Hatteras and Fralman streets; Bennett street and Homewood avenue; Beaver and Adams streets; South Twelfth and Carson street; Flowers street and Second avenue; North Side City Hall; and at 826 Warrington avenue, headquarters of the Eighteenth Ward Smith-for-President Club.

HIT POLICE CHIEF WHO HELD SKEPTICAL 'MOTHER'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Removal of James E. Davis, chief of police, and censure of the police commission was recommended to the City Council today by its welfare committee.

The committee's action was the outcome of an investigation into the holding of Mrs. Catherine Collins in the city psychopathic ward for 10 days recently because she doubted the identity of a boy who police insisted was her son, the missing Walter Collins, named in murder indictments at Riverside, Cal., as one of the victims of torture and murder on the chicken ranch of Gordon Stewart Northcutt.

The investigation began after the police commission had cleared a police officer of liability in her imprisonment and Mrs. Collins had filed a $508,300 damage suit against the city. She later withdrew the suit when public organizations began efforts for a public airing of the case.

The boy who police said was her son, later was identified as Arthur Hutchens, of Marion, Ia.

HOLD 2 NABBED IN DRUG RAID

James McClure, alias James McCarty, and Earl Randall, a sailor, arrested October 23 by government narcotic agents in a downtown hotel, were held for court yesterday by the United States commissioner to answer a charge of violating the Harrison narcotic act.

The agents testified finding an opium smoking outfit nuder a bed in their room. Although the room was full of fumes from pipe smoking and the pipe still was hot, the two defendants, according to the agents, denied using the pipe or knowing it or a lamp for preparing the "pills" were under the bed.

60 IN RUMANIA DIE IN WRECK

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Dispatches reaching London today say the death toll in the railroad wreck near the small Rumanian town of Recea was between 60 and 70, or about double the number officially announced in statements from Bucharest. Fifty persons were injured.

An American described as Arnold Ehrlich, a merchant of Chicago, was listed among the dead. First reports also numbered Alexander Herschlet, general manager of the Wahl Eversharp Company, of New York, among the dead, but later he was described as only slightly injured.

The wreck occurred yesterday morning when the internationally-known Simplon Express, speeding toward Paris at 60 miles an hour, failed to take a switch and crashed into the Hermannstadt-Bucharest Express.

FALL KILLING 2 BABES ACCIDENT, SAYS DOCTOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Mrs. Milton S. Waldman, Guggenheim heiress, whose two children died last Fridy in a fall from the roof of the Hotel Surrey, today told Charles Norris, Chief Medical Examiner, all she said she could remember of the tragedy. Dr. Norris who visited the mother at a hospital where she has been since the death of the children, said he had not changed his opinion that the death of the children was purely accidental.

VOTE EARLY IN DAY, PLEA OF ARMSTRONG

Congestion at the polls at the closing hour November 6, may be relieved by an application to the courts, County Commissionr Joseph G. Armstrong, Republican County Chairman, stated last night.

Hundreds of persons are expected to be prepared to vote when the poll close and unless the courts allow some latitude they will be disfranchised. Philadelphia courts held yesterday that only four voters may be given ballot at the closing hour, in addition to voters in the election booths.

The exceptional registration, with the record size ballot which is expected to consume additional time by the voter, will result in considerable last-minute congestion, according to predictions.

Commissioner Armstrong has studied the situation in the last few days and has summoned legal aid in an effort to aid voters. Early voting, particularly women voters, is advocated by the Commissioner as a solution of the problem.

Kelly soon recovered consciousness and began plans to establish his identity and to receive the legacy.

G.O.P. SPEAKERS CITE TRADE GROWTH

"Two parties survived the trying periods through which our country has passed, and the candidates today are the outstanding men of the respective parties," declared Attorney Artemus C. Leslie, speaking last night at Forester's Hall, Butler street, Ninth Ward. "Our local industries have grown and prospered under Republican rule, and Allegheny county is one of the main links in American Republicanism," he said.

"The industries of our country are its life blood, and from these industries we all gain our livelihood," declared County Commissioner E. V. Babcock, speaking to Elizabeth township voters last night at a meeting on the John Douglas farm, Becks Run road.

Mrs. A. H. G. Frazier, vice chairman of the Allegheny County Republican Committee and Joseph A. Richardson were speakers at a Republican meeting last night in the American Legion Building, 144 Main street, Carnegie.

SPRINKLERS NIP 7TH ST. FIRE

A large crowd watched firemen extinguish a blaze on the top floor of the Pittsburgh Cut Flower Company, a six-story building at 116-118 Seventh street, last night. The fire, of undetermined origin, broke out in the firm's paint shop and set off the automatic sprinklers, leaving little to do for the firefighters. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

ITALIANS OBJECT

When delegates from the Italian division, state Democratic organization, moved on Mayor Kline and County Commissioners' Chairman Armstrong to object to the practice of making billboards of public-owned office buildings, the City-County Building was not the only offender. Here is a section of the county courthouse, the old building, as it appeared then.

PROBE PHILA. LIQUOR RAIDING SQUAD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Two lines of inquiry, one directed toward the activities of Unit No. 1, disbanded liquor raiding squad of the police department, and the other aimed at the identity of depositors of nearly $12,000,000 in banks, held the attention today of District Attorney Monaghan, who is directing the grand jury investigation of rum runners and police corruption.

The acquittal by a jury last night of Charles Cohen, former police captain, who was charged with extorting money from saloonkeepers for protection, gave the district attorney his first important setback since the inquiry started on August 20. Of the two score police arrested on similar charges, four are awaiting sentence. Dates for the trials of the others have not been set. Matthew Patterson, a Republican organization ward leader, was jointly convicted with Charles W. Schoenleber, a former police captain.

Frank De Rose, a patrolman, who was on trial jointly with Cohen, was discharged when the prosecution told the court it did not have sufficient evidence. Albert Long, a district detective, who turned state's evidence and testified that he had collected protection money for Cohen and had received a 25 per cent split, is at liberty under bail.

REED ATTACKS CITIZENSHIP OF HOOVER

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 27.—Senator James Reed of Missouri, addressing 5,000 persons inside and outside of the Elks' Auditorium here last night, attacked the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, whom he charged with having lived "under the Union Jack" for "23 years."

The Americanism of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the Senator said, never has been questioned.

"Mr. Hoover lived all his adult life until he came here to take office, in British territory," Senator Reed said. "His American citizenship is so much in doubt that it requires certification. Accordingly, Dr. Work, having been appropriately buoyed up by the certificate of the Attorney General that he, Work, had illegally and wrongfully given Sinclair an oil contract, in turn solemnly certifies that Herbert Hoover never really quite became a British subject.

"The certificate admits his name was on the British lists as a qualified voter. It admits that he owned property in England. It is also admitted that in 1914 he was a director of 29 British companies.

"Why this quibbling? Think of placing the control of our foreign policies in the hands of a man who left the United States and for the next 23 years chose to live under the Union Jack."

Hoover, as a member of the Harding cabinet, remained silent during all the oil transactions of that administration, the Senator said.

RABIES FATAL FOR BOY, 13

Rabies developing last night, caused the death early today of James Gray, 13, Negro, of 2725 Webster avenue, in West Penn Hospital. The boy was bitten by a neighbor's dog, while at play six weeks ago. The wound healed rapidly and no ill effects were noticed until last night when the boy became ill and was rushed to the hospital.

LAST CHILD OF PIONEER MINISTER DEAD AT 90

SCHUYLKILL ON FENCE IN PRESIDENTIAL FIGHT

By WILLIAM I. GRUNDISH.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 27.—Schuylkill, third of the largest anthracite coal producing counties of Pennsylvania, must be put in the doubtful column in the presidential battle between Alfred E. Smith and Herbert Hoover.

Even the staunchest of Republicans admit that the fight is a close one. The Democrats claim the county by majorities ranging as high as 10,000, basing their predictions on a heavy Smith vote in Shenandoah, the Mahanoy Valley and other mining sections in the district known here as "north of the mountain."

The situation, as far as any survey is concerned, is complicated by the extreme bitterness existing between the Republican factions headed by Paul W. Houck, member of the compensation board, and county chairman, and District Attorney Charles A. Snyder, former state treasurer.

BUCK-PASSING

The Houck people predict that Hoover will carry the county by several thousand—but add that their predictions may be ruined in the event that the Snyder faction swings some votes to Smith merely to embarrass the county chairman.

On the other hand the Snyder followers say that while the vote will be fairly close, Hoover will carry the county unless Houck lets the Smith vote run away with him in the territory "north of the mountain" where the compensation commissioner is recognized leader.

"I'm waging a campaign of attrition against Houck," said Snyder today. "He's just like a snowman—geting smaller every day."

Snyder, according to virtually everyone at the county headquarters, which is dominated by Houck, was elected by accident, anti-Jewish prejudice being responsible, they say, for the defeat of his opponent. This suspicion and ill-feeling does not help the Republican standard-bearer, although even the Houck people look for a big Hoover vote in Pottsville, Snyder's home town, while the Snyder followers expect Houck to keep the Smith votes in his own territory down as low as possible.

The registration of women throughout the county is amazing. It is close to 50 per cent. In the boroughs and townships 37,072 Republican women and 11,066 Democratic women are enrolled. The total registration in the county, including Pottsville, the only city, is 74,840 Republicans and 27,415 Democrats.

There is a warm congressional fight between George F. Brumm, Republican, and Bernard V. O'Hare, Democrat. Snyder predicts a victory for Drumm, but states that Houck is against him. Houck also predicts a Brumm victory. State Senator Robert D. Heaton is seeking re-election, opposed by Adam C. Schaeffer, Democrat. The feeling generally seems to be that Heaton will win.

Some time ago Heaton and Houck, long political allies, quarreled. In spite of that fact the Houck headquarters is understood to be working for the Heaton cause. Both Houck and Snyder predicted a Heaton victory and the election of the Republican legislative candidates regardless of the county's vote on the presidential contest. In this county, as in Luzerne and Lackawanna, it will pay both sides to keep a close check on the polling places on election day.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Informality Is Giving Delightful Touch To Fall Season

THERE'S a delightful touch of informality in this social season, don't you agree? Of course there have been, and will be, more formal events, but they are interspersed with luncheons and bridges.

And this year some of the mothers of debutantes have decided to include a few luncheons or dances in place of a tea.

Mrs. Harris E. Wainwright, of Beechwood boulevard, who presented her daughter, Florence, to society last year at a tea, will present her younger daughter, Harriet, at a luncheon in the family home on Tuesday. And at the luncheon the guests will be the buds of the season, a few other friends of Harriet's and the mothers of debutantes.

THE first Monday in November will be marked by an interesting benefit, a bridge the board of managers and associate members of the Eye and Ear Hospital will give in the Hotel Schenley.

Mrs. William McKelvy is president of the board; Mrs. William Scott, treasurer; Mrs. Howard Hale McClintic, Mrs. Edward B. Scull, Mrs. John C. Wilson and Mrs. Russell R. Huggins, managers. They will be in the receiving line.

Mrs. Robert J. McKay, Mrs. William W. Blair and Mrs. Charles W. Dahlinger will be in charge of refreshments; Mrs. Wallace Hurtte Rowe, Mrs. William B. Rodgers and Miss Alice Gray, of decorations; Mrs. Edwin N. Ohl, Mrs. John A. Murtland and Mrs. Gail R. Nutty, cards and scores; Mrs. Albert F. Dilworth, Mrs. George W. CONGRESS OF CLUBS OPENS FALL SEASON

IT was a crowded program that marked the season's opening meeting at the Congress of Clubs yesterday—the fall quarterly session of this organization. The presidents' conference was the high light of the morning session. Well attended, it brought out many and varied problems and suggestions looking toward their solution. Mrs. Enoch Rauh's outline of the city welfare department's work was the principal feature in the afternoon. She termed Mayview "an almshouse that has become a very excellent general hospital" and spoke of the hoped-for change in its name to the Pittsburgh General or Pittsburgh City Hospital. Some examples of the work done by dangerous, noisy patients, who through this occupational therapy have become quiet and safe, was displayed, unusually fine workmanship showing in each piece.

A press conference with the club editors of the city newspapers present to answer questions was conducted under the supervision of Mrs. Paul Hamilton, press chairman for the Congress. Mrs. Lucia Ames Meade, of the Women's International League for Peace; the Rev. Waldo Amos, speaking in behalf of the cause and cure of war conference in Carnegie Music Hall November 16, and James F. Malone and J. L. Herbert speaking in the interest of the various proposed constitutional amendments, were others on the long program. Music was furnished by Elsie Matz Bauman, soprano, and Mrs. Milton Tully, pianist.

Suwanee River Gets Foster Memorial

FARGO, Ga., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—A granite shaft weighing more than three tons, today stood near the head of Suwanee River as a memorial to Stephen Collins Foster, whose lilting melody, "Suwanee River," made the stream famous in song in many sections of the world.

A national touch was given the unveiling exercises set for 11 a. m. today when it was announced that "Suwanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe," and other Foster songs were to be broadcast today over a chain of radio stations by the National Broadcasting Company, New York.

Foster melodies sung by a male quartet from Waycross, and a brief pageant by school children under direction of Mrs. J. L. Walker, Waycross, were on the program for the local exercises. C. J. Haden, of Atlanta, donor of the shaft, was to make the presentation to the state.

HOOVER HOLDS BRADFORD, MERCER

The neighboring counties, Mercer and Bedford, are certainly headed for the Herbert Hoover column on the face of completed returns in the straw vote canvass of Pennsylvania by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Both counties will increase their Republican pluralities over the year 1924, according to indications. In Mercer county President Coolidge won 66 per cent of the total vote in 1924, while Hoover captures 74 per cent of the straw vote. In 1924 President Coolidge captured 65 per cent of the total vote in Bedford county, while Hoover wins 85 per cent of the total in the poll.

In both counties more than twice the number of new voters favor Hoover, while in Mercer county four Coolidge voters of 1924 favor Smith now, in comparison with one Davis voter favoring Hoover, while in Bedford county the ratio is nearly 2-to-1 in favor of Hoover with respect to party defections.

In both counties women favor Hoover over Smith on a ratio of 5-to-1, while the LaFollette vote of 1924 goes to Smith on the same ratio. Sharon favors Hoover on a basis of 2-to-1 over Smith.

The present standing in the Pennsylvania poll, conducted in connection with the nation-wide canvass by the Hearst papers, is as follows: Hoover, 70,448, including 57,310 men and 13,138 women; Smith, 36,945, including 28,667 men and 8,278 women.

This vote was divided in 1924 as follows: Coolidge, 74,332, including 60,181 men and 14,151 women; Davis, 11,458, including 9,667 men and 1,791 women; LaFollette, 6,217; not voting, 15,386.

SEEK DAUGHTER OF FARMER

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Oct. 27.—Police of Jefferson County are seeking to solve the mysterious disappearance of Ida Satterlee, 20, daughter of L. C. Satterlee, a farmer near here.

The young woman was last seen by acquaintances when she left the Sunday School class of Prof. C. A. Anderson in the Brookville Methodist Episcopal Church. Parents of the missing girl are distracted and say they are unable to account for her disappearance.

The father said he would offer a "suitable reward" for information of the whereabouts of his daughter.

BEAVER FALLS LIONS SPONSOR AIR BEACON

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 27.—The Lions Club of Beaver Falls has voted to sponsor the construction of a beacon light and large electric sign to be placed atop of the General Brodhead Hotel here for the guidance of pilots of airplanes and dirigibles flying at night.

BROTHER AND SISTER CAUGHT WITH LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—The first case of a brother and sister being held for the same liquor violation developed here when Robert Dreamer, 31, and Mrs. Lottie Jones, 26, were held for court by Alderman J. H. Zediker. Dreamer was en route to his home in Hamilton street when taken into custody with a supply of booze. Other liquor was found in the home.

LAFOLLETTE'S BOLT BOOSTS SMITH

By CHARLES L. WHEELER.
(Noted Political Analyst.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—With the formal announcement by Senator Robert M. LaFollette that he cannot support the Republican platform, the bolt of the responsible LaFollette leadership in Wisconsin to the Tammany folks is now practically 100 per cent.

While not mentioning Gov. Smith by name the Wisconsin senator makes it plain that he is not in sympathy with the Hoover candidacy.

The LaFollette leaders now over on the Smith side, besides the young senator, are:

Herman L. Ekern, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

United States Senator John J. Blaine, who is not only bolting the Republican ticket, but is on the stump whooping it up for Smith on the ground that Hoover is not a good party man and that he (Blaine) is therefore justified in supporting Gov. Smith.

Mrs. Rose Myers, secretary of the Wisconsin State Central Committee, who is out openly for Gov. Smith.

Coincidently with this formidable lineup of the LaFollette clan against the Republican ticket, the Hearst poll of Wisconsin this morning puts Smith in the lead by the narrow margin of 84.

WISCONSIN SMITH'S

From the beginning of the poll Hoover and Smith have been seesawing back and forth in the Badger State. When Milwaukee was completed it was seen that Smith probably would leave Milwaukee county with a lead of about 50,000 votes to meet the outside Hoover lead, whatever it might be.

The Hoover outstate strength was such as to just about match this Milwaukee torrent, and in this fashion the see-sawing has been going on for weeks.

This morning's figures are: Hoover, 21,885; Smith, 21,969.

Mr. Hoover's New York speech, in which he characterized some of the things Senator LaFollette stands for as tending to "state socialism" was the last straw, the LaFollette leaders proclaim. On this they are justified, they aver, in doing everything in their power to defeat the Republican party this trip.

The smash-up all over the state is the worst that has been known since the LaFollette leaders assumed control of the politics a quarter of a century ago. The bitterness engendered is more intense than in the days of the elder LaFollette.

Although the Republican National Committee spokesmen still insist that all is not lost in Wisconsin, the impressionists who are looking at the spectacle at short range report that Wisconsin is probably in the Smith column to stay.

LILLY MINE PREPARES TO RESUME OPERATIONS

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—The Lilley mine of the Valley Coal & Coke Company is making extensive preparations for reopening due to improved market conditions. It operates by both rail and river. When running full, the mine employs about 250 men and has a monthly payroll of about $30,000. The Clyde mine at Fredericktown now owned by the W. J. Rainey Coal & Coke, is operating.

COLOR GRAVURE

A PORTRAIT—full page in size—faithfully reproduced in colors—will appear on the first page of Sunday's Color Gravure Section. It is worthy of framing. Be sure to see it!

Third of a Series of Historical Paintings

"Discovery of the Mississippi," painted by William Henry Powell, has been selected for Sunday Section. It depicts the meeting of De Soto and the Indians on the banks of the great river and the claiming of it in the name of the King of Spain. It is a colorful, gripping canvas.

Another Pittsburgh Industrial Scene

Otto Kuhler, local artist, selected for his subject, "Pittsburgh Rolling Mills." He portrays in his colorful, vivid style one of the most spectacular operations in the steel industry. The reproduction of this canvas will interest all Pittsburghers.

More Carnegie Exhibition Paintings Reproduced

Because last Sunday's Color Gravure, featuring prize winning paintings at Carnegie Institute International Exhibition, was so warmly received, more paintings will be reproduced Sunday. "Snow Fall," by Everett Warner—a Pittsburgher—is outstanding.

Interesting Pictures of Local Scenes and People

Western Pennsylvanians at home and abroad—Pittsburgh engineers at work in Bermuda—society at play at resorts—local scenes and local people—all incorporated into this interesting section. A scene in Schenley Park, with Fall flowers in bloom is unusually striking.

When You Compare
Color Gravure with any other type of pictorial section published in Pittsburgh, you will readily appreciate why its popularity is so outstanding. By far the most modern, beautiful newspaper feature ever introduced to Pittsburgh. Be sure to get your copy!

MARIE PREVOST GOES BACK TO COMPANY AFTER BURYING HATCHET

By REGINA CREWE.

(Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 27.

ALL'S well that ends well. And Marie Prevost has buried the hatchet with Columbia Pictures. Marie has agreed to sign up for the starring role in Columbia's production, "Side Show," which is to be directed by Erle Kenton. Marie got a hurry-up from Columbia no sooner than she arrived back in Hollywood from her location trip for the Mormon epic, "Exodus." She was all set to play the title role in "College Coquette." Then someone in the studio thought it was Fourth of July and started a lot of fireworks. When the smoke cleared away Marie was home considering offers from other sources. But now she's back for "Side Show" and everybody's happy.

There are negotiations on to get Hugh Allen as Marie's leading man. And after this one the "Godless Girl" star may go over to First National to play opposite Richard Barthelmess in "Weary River." The girl part in the picture is said to be "made to order" for her.

Columbia certainly has an ambitious schedule these days. Among other pictures planned are "The Fall of Eve," by Anita Loos, and "The Donovan Affair," not to mention others in a long list which provide great dramatic material for any of Hollywood's big names.

Leatrice Joy Opposite Victor

THE Fox organization has given itself a great break by signing Leatrice Joy to play opposite Victor McLaglen in "The Baggage Smasher," which is to be made with movietone sound and dialog. Leatrice is one of the not too many fine actresses in pictures who has proved her competence on the stage, and whose voice is a "wow" when reproduced in talking pictures. It is highly probable that the picture will result in Leatrice signing a long term contract with Winfield Sheehan's organization.

Mary Pickford No "Coquette"

NO one who thought much about it is surprised at the report that Mary Pickford has abandoned her intention of making "Coquette" into a motion picture. The story, which deals with the betrayal and suicide of its heroine, would mark a too-rapid transition for Mary from the roles which have portrayed her as "the little girl with the curls." It is, after all, necessary to do more than bob one's hair in order to really grow up. At least in the estimation of as many fans as Mary possesses. Just what Mary will do now, not even she knows. But there are several vehicles at "Pickfair" and at United Artists' studio which will provide more acceptable screen stuff, although perhaps not such strong dramatic meat as is contained in "Coquette."

Jack Dempsey Signs for Films

THE New York offices of Warner Brothers seem to have scooped the competition by signing Jack Dempsey, the well-known stage thespian, for one or more Vitaphone talking pictures. Whether or not screen and dialog rights for "The Big Fight" are included in the deal, Hollywood doesn't know. But "the champ's" popularity makes him a good movie bet, and his recent stage jaunt will prove valuable to him when he faces the cameras, Kleigs and microphones.

Barrymore Has Director's Job

THERE'S a lot of interest in the bows soon to be made by Lionel Barrymore and Lowell Sherman as directors of Metro photoplays. Lionel isn't playing a part in his picture, which is called "Confession." Its cast includes Carol Nye, Robert Ames, Yvonne Stark and Christine Yven. Lowell, though, is acting in his picture as well as directing. Its title is "Phipps," and besides Lowell, Cyril Chadwick and Betty Francisco are in it. Both are dramatic subjects. Success with them may result in both stars turning their attention to the direction of feature length photo dramas.

Studio Brevities About Pictures

PARAMOUNT'S sound stage is being worked overtime these days. William De Mille is making his talkie, "Half An Hour," during the daytime, while at night Richard Wallace, Mal St. Clair and Rowland V. Lee are filming sound sequences respectively for "Shopworn Angel," "the Canary Murder Case" and "The Wolf of Wall Street."

Report has it that there is a job for a film cowboy over on the Fox lot, Rex Bell and his picture, "The Jazz Cowboy," having both been placed in the discard. Fox has been having a tough time with its cow hands ever since Tom Mix packed his saddle over to another ranch. It isn't so easy to fill the stirrups of old-timer Tom, after all.

Director Al Santell has been given the brown derby, or whatever prize is awarded, for having the greatest number of pictures among First National's 10 best productions of the year. Al breezed under the wire with plenty to spare by directing "The Patent Leather Kid," "Wheel of Chance" and "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," all Dick Barthelmess dramas.

RUTH ELDER STARS ON SCREEN

Ruth Elder, the plucky and attractive aviatrix who with Capt. George Haldeman braved the Atlantic in a futile attempt to span the ocean by air in the plane The American Girl and was rescued at sea after their plane had failed, makes her movie debut in Pittsburgh next week.

She comes as leading lady for Richard Dix in the Penn Theater's screen attraction, "Moran of the Marines," and her role gives her ample opportunity to display her skill in flying.

After many test flights, Miss Elder and Capt. Haldeman took off from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, on October 11, 1927. A storm blew them southward to a point 350 miles northeast of the Azores, where the oil pressure failed and they descended upon the open sea near the Dutch tanker Barendrecht, which picked them up.

Followed a vaudeville engagement for Miss Elder, during which she visited Pittsburgh. Miss Elder was given a screen test by Paramount, and her assignment to play the feminine role opposite Richard Dix followed.

Next to flying, clothes remain her greatest thrill, says Miss Elder.

"I have visited many of the smartest shops in Paris and New York," she says, "but the greatest assemblage of feminine finery I ever saw was in the wardrobe rooms of the movie studios."

CRAVEN'S FUN IN PLAYS COMING

Frank Craven's comedy of golf and home life, "The 19th Hole," returns Monday to the Nixon, where it played last season. Mr. Craven and Dorothy Blackburn will be seen in the leading roles.

"The Jealous Moon," which begins an engagement in the Alvin Monday, will bring Jane Cowl for her first visit here since her appearance in "Romeo and Juliet." Miss Cowl is co-author of her new play.

"Abie's Irish Rose," which established the long-run record for a play in Pittsburgh on its first appearance here, will return Monday to the Pitt, scene of its original success here, with Patricia Quinn in the title role.

Fresh from a Broadway vacation with a kitbag full of new melodies and ideas, Teddy Joyce will resume the reins as master of ceremonies next week in Loew's Penn.

Billie Dove has an emotional role in "The Night Watch," a First National picture, coming to the Stanley Theater next week. There also will be a stage show and Fox Movietone News.

"Me, Gangster," a Fox Movietone screen version of the magazine serial of that name, is scheduled for the Aldine's screen, beginning Monday.

Rex Beach's "The Michigan Kid," will be the feature film, along with six acts of Keith-Albee vaudeville, to be shown in the Davis next week. Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree are starred.

Two leading women support Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool," which remains in the Grand next week. They are Betty Bronson and Josephine Dunn, one a brunette, the other a blonde.

Nat Tucker, dancing juvenile in "Girls From Happyland," next week's burlesque at the Academy, also is a good singer of jazz songs.

WESTINGHOUSE VET TO SPEAK TUESDAY

Samuel Adams Chase, for 27 years associated with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, will address members of the West Penn Commercial Managers and Superintendents Association at a luncheon Tuesday in the University Club. He will speak on "Selling the Electrical Idea to the Public."

NOVELTIES AND NEWS :-: FROM :-: FILM WORLD CAPITAL

Mary Brian of today smiles at the Mary Brian of yesterday and probably has an opinion that clothes do make the woman.

Virginia Cherrill, 20-year-old Chicago girl, selected to be leading woman in Charlie Chaplin film.

Wallace Beery evidently is preparing for the next war, as it is said that he has taken to knitting sweaters to occupy his time during studio waits.

Another lass, Jean Arthur, looks at herself and smiles at the horror of her old fashioned self seeing the new undies.

NAME ZAIN AD WINNERS SUNDAY

Prize winners for the fourth period of the $15,000 Zain ad-writing test will be announced in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph tomorrow. A cash prize of $100 and hundreds of other prizes will be awarded.

Specimens of the prize-winning ads will be published in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph Monday.

Hundreds of other prizes are to be given during the remaining periods of the test, which runs until November 15. You may win one or more of them. The grand prize is $1,000.

The rules for the ad-test will be found on this page. Read them carefully. Professional advertisement writers and newspaper employes are barred from the test. You are not expected to know anything about the technical side of advertising. But YOU SHOULD KNOW THOROUGHLY THE STORES, GOODS AND SERVICE THAT YOU ADVERTISE. Some of the contestants have been surprised that they did not win prizes. In many cases it was because they did not take the trouble to call at the stores, examine the goods, and make inquiries. Their ads were, in consequence, not authoritative. Know your subject, and you cannot fail to write well.

WRITE 39 ADS

The ads must be written about 39 local business concerns, a list of whom, with the products or service they sell, will be found elsewhere on this page. To be eligible for the grand prize of $1,000 it is necessary to write at least one ad about each of the 39 participating firms some time during the campaign.

It will be helpful to you to visit the stores of these concerns and ask questions. Patronize them and learn by personal experience the quality of their goods, the reasonableness of their prices, the value of their service.

You will be doing the community a real service if you help through your ad about the Kissel-Skiles Company to make Pittsburghers better acquainted with the advantage of the "drive yourself" system of renting automobiles. Many a person would save money and time, and be enabled to transact business more efficiently, if he would avail himself of the Kissel-Skiles service.

Suppose you and your family wanted to see some good vaudeville and movies, but you were somewhat doubtful as to where to go, because you had been to theaters with them before where things were said that were offensive to decency and you did not want to risk having your children hear that kind of stuff. Take them to any of the theaters of the Harris Amusement Company, "where the show is always clean." The Harris theaters are for the whole family. That is a thought for your ad.

TRY SMOKING STOGIES

When you come to write your ad about Arco Specials you might consider whether it would not be to the advantage of cigaret smokers to switch to these excellent stogies. They are inexpensive, yet afford "all the joy of a good cigar." If you smoke, you will find no difficulty in getting effective arguments for the use of Arco Specials. Just try a few. If you don't smoke, ask some one who does.

If you have not personally experienced the satisfaction of owning your home, you can imagine it. What a relief not to have to pay rent! You may pay for the cost of the house in installments, just like paying rent, but in that case you are making a profitable investment. Think of these things in writing your ad about the General Homes Corporation. Visit the model home at 2439 Brighton road.

Write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, which should be at least as large as a postal card, and preferably commercial letter size. Put your name and address on the back of each sheet, and also on the flap of the envelope in which you mail them. SEND THE ADS TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

COULD NOT DO HER WORK

Strengthened by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Berlin, N. H.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was in a family way because I was run-down and falling away every day. My food wouldn't digest and I could not do my work. I had to have a hired girl all the time. I took several medicines before I tried yours but none would help me. A friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and told me to try it as it would help me a lot. Your medicines have done me a lot of good and I cannot praise them enough. I will answer any letters that ask me what Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines have done for me."—Mrs. WILLIE AMERO, 627 Burgess St., Berlin, N. H.

Let the Record Speak

IN 1920 the Republican Party, recalled to power by a tidal-wave vote, inherited war-expanded industries, prostrated railroads, agricultural confusion, financial paronia and diplomatic bedlam.

National food acreage had been extended to fill international larders, foreign exchange was headed for the madhouse, capital and labor were girding for conflict, red flags waving, soap boxes raving, and investment funds en route to the cyclone cellar.

Some $8,000,000,000 of dubious European debts stood on the Treasury books without tangible security, fixed interest or due dates.

War-time over-production had jammed warehouses with leather, sugar, cotton and provisions. Cattle, sheep and horses weren't worth their fodder.

Demobilization and the substitution of women in men's positions, found 5,000,000 factory and office workers jobless.

European markets were closed by political chaos, inflation and undetermined indemnities. Export outlets had vanished.

Shipyards were filled with worthless hulls, harbors littered with abandoned bottoms.

Airship, munition and explosives plants rusted in idleness; contractors thronged Washington with unadjusted claims.

Housing shortage preyed upon wage and income alike. Car, truck and tire outputs had dwindled to trickles. And dollar buying power lost forty cents on the trip from pocket to store.

In eight years, Republican efficiency has absorbed industrial slacks and market gluts, carried consumption to new peaks, restored railroad service and earnings, laid the foundations of agricultural solvency, panic-proofed finance—and re-established diplomatic prestige without impairing America's traditional independence of diplomatic action.

Republican administration has regularized foreign indebtedness and substituted interest-bearing notes for hazy memoranda.

Republican prosperity has erased discontent, sugar, cotton and packing deficits; conciliated labor and capital and organized those 5,000,000 men back into jobs. Without dislodging their substitutes, either.

It has restored and increased export outlet, cleaned up the shipping mess, reincarnated our merchant marine, adjusted war claims, democratized credit, cheapened rural money rates, retired Liberty Bonds, raised tariffs, cut taxes and brought security values over the top.

It has fostered and financed the greatest housing and building program in history.

It has taken government out of business and put business into government.

It has covered the continent with roads and filled the roads with traffic.

It has sent wages higher—living costs lower—and made a dollar feel like a hundred cents again.

Republican prosperity is wearing silk stockings every day, buying a better car every year, carrying a bank balance, running a radio, a washing machine, and hot and cold water in its tiled bathroom.

Republican prosperity has modernized transportation, shop and business practice, changed waste piles to dividends, stabilized merchandising and nursed the wireless trades through infancy to gianthood.

Republican platform and candidate guarantee locked gates against foreign labor, pauper products, and European entanglements—pledge feasible and Constitutional farm relief—declare for the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act and law enforcement.

The Republican Party makes its stand on high earnings, high protection and high achievement—on its stewardship of common opportunity and national assets—on its immigration and conservation record. And on its record of tolerance, justice and fair play.

It offers a sound, progressive program and it offers—

America's most competent and distinguished citizen

Joan Discovers That Ruth Is Deeply in Love With Bill Martin

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Joan Hastings, seventeen and beautiful, lives with two old maiden aunts and one of them, Aunt Evvie, tells her of her unmarried mother's tragic love affair and death. Joan falls in love with Bill Martin, a penniless young man, and she is sent away to school. Bill, an innocent victim of a bootlegging gang, is sent to jail and Joan, begging for bail money from the aunts, confesses everything to them. She is put on a train for school in charge of a woman friend of Aunt Evvie's. Bill, freed, bids goodby to his mother, leaving no address and befriending Rollo Keyes, a rich young spender, is given a job by his father. Joan, escaping from the train, reaches his home just after he has gone. Concealing her presence from her aunts she gets a position in a department store and later works as a model in a smart shop. There Mrs. Barstow, a rich society woman, sees her, likes her and asks her to tea. She meets Curtis Barstow who immediately becomes interested in her. Joan goes to see Mrs. Martin and learns that Bill has written but has not asked for her. She thinks he no longer cares. Mrs. Kimmer, with whom she lives and for whose daughter she works, sees a love affair developing between her and Barstow and Francis tells her Mrs. Barstow has been asking about her past. Bill comes home and discovers that Joan is close at hand. He goes to the shop to wait for her, only to see Curtis drive away with her. Later Bill finds her and she asks him why he came to see her. Ruth Gillespie, one of the girls in the shop, asks Joan to help her break her engagement to Rollo Keyes.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XVII.

ALL day the rain fell, in a soft gray drizzle. All day Joan sat at her small table in the workroom idling with a pencil in her hand, and a block of paper before her.

"Now you let that Gillespie piece alone," Maisie had warned her. "A girl that has dyed hair and two husbands at twenty-one ain't your kind, and you keep away from her."

And tonight they were "stepping out." The expression was Ruth's. Ruth was in high spirits. She kept running into the workroom to talk about it.

"I told them seven, at the St. Francis. I don't want them calling at my jay hotel. Or could we have them call at Mrs. Kimmer's? . . . Joan, I'm crazy to know what you think of him. He's . . . wonderful . . . of course I've been in love before, but not like this . . . Joan, if you will try to get him away from me, you natural born vamp, you, I'll kill you . . . My Lord, the fool I was to ask you . . . listen. You'll be nice to Rollo, won't you? He's a sweet thing, really, and leave my boy for me . . . I think I'll sneak out and get a wave, my last permanent was kind of fuzzy . . . and a facial.

They all went downstairs laughing, Joan and Ruth and young Rollo Keyes. Outside a motor purred, the driver held a big umbrella for them. Rollo, a serious young man in immaculate evening clothes, took the seat beside Joan, Ruth chattered on his other side. They were on their way..."stepping out!"

The raindrops fell, the street lights twinkled, every one a star, a star in a black velvet night. And this was Joan, Joan Higgins, who used to wear blue serge with patches on the elbows. Joan, in Francine's most successful evening gown, cut so low it showed the dimpled smoothness of her shoulders, curved daringly to her waist in back! Joan, walking into a big hotel, to dance and dine at night!

The joke of it—Joan—doing this! She laughed at Rollo's witticisms, not hearing a word he said. And she thought of Curtis, Curtis whose lips had brushed hers, Curtis who was coming back. Other gowns from Francine's...other nights like this with Curtis...Her voice came high and lifting as a child's, "Ruth...isn't it fun!"

In the glare of the hotel lobby Ruth's face showed thin and strained. "Rollo, are you sure we were to meet him here? I don't see him. Why didn't you bring him to the apartment in the first place? This is no way to meet ...if we have to wait here all night..."

A man was coming toward them, a tall man with crisp, black hair and an insolent, boyish swing to his shoulders.

Bill. It was Bill. Ruthie's lover was Bill . . . Ruthie introducing him—to her. . . .

He took her hand, "Miss Hastings and I have met before."

Bill saying that . . . that they had met before . . . she and Bill. . . .

They were all talking now, all talking and laughing together, moving across the hall to the dining room, Joan with the others.

Bill, in love with Ruth . . . so soon . . . so soon. . . .

"I ought to care, awfully," she thought, "but I don't—I don't care a bit. Only I hope—I hope I'm not going to be sick. I feel—so queer!"

The orchestra played, the lights glowed. Waiters brought courses, which she pretended to eat. "Dance?" Rollo asked, when Ruth and Bill were gone away.

"I'd rather not . . . tired. . . ."

"All right, suits me, let's eat. But that Will'um Martin out there hitting it up with my girl friend couldn't sit still if you tied him. Some stepper that boy. Good old Bill. So you knew Bill, eh? Before he came South I suppose. Well, well"—

Then Rollo and Ruth drifted away, and only she and Bill were left. She looked down at her hands. There was nothing to say.

"Dance?"

She stood up. Why not? It didn't matter. But think of dancing...dancing...with Bill...

They circled the floor, and he led her through the maze of dancers out into the hall. Stood facing her with a little twisted smile. "You are very lovely, Joan."

She twisted the wisp of handkerchief in her hands, looked anxiously past him, back to the dancers, trying to find Rollo and Ruth.

"They'll be looking for us. Hadn't we better—"

But he blocked the way. "Joan, you've changed so. I—I can't get used to it. To think of finding you here—with Ruth—"

"It's you," she wanted to whisper. "You've changed. You're the one, not I! I'm just—Johnnie still!" But she couldn't trust her voice, and besides there was Ruth, Ruth, between them—

The music had stopped. There came the faint ripple of applause, the clatter of heels on the polished floor, the dancers were going to their seats.

She took another step, toward the door.

And suddenly he took her hand, held it tight in his big, warm grasp. "Joan—tell me. Joan, are you happy with this—this fellow I saw you with—"

"Curtis?" she faltered.

"Yes—Curtis. Are you? Joan—for God's sake—tell me the truth!"

Her knees wobbled, her heart beat crazily against her side. "Do you care that I am? Does it mean anything to you—now?" But the words that trembled on her lips were never said. Rollo and Ruth were back, looking for them. The ghostly garden melted away.

"Hiding out on us, you fakers! Of all the nerve. Come on back—I never saw such a girl!" Ruth was laughing, a little too loud and shrill.

"Are you, Joan, he asked again.

But the little moment of magic had passed, would never come back again.

"Is she, what?" Ruth mimicked, taking his arm.

"Am I happy, he's asking!" Joan cried, and threw back her head, laughing, too: Her eyes were on Bill, the new Bill again, with the glittering Ruth clinging to his arm. "Don't look it! Don't I? Don't I?"

• • •

"But where did you meet him?" Ruth persisted.

"Oh, a long time ago, at school."

"Sweethearts, I suppose."

Joan shrugged. Went on basting the soft silken stuff in her lap.

Ruth got up and closed the door. They were in the workroom alone. "Going to try and get him back?"

"Of course not—don't be silly. It—it wasn't anything, really."

Ruth burst into tears. Her voice, when she spoke, was strangled. "I know I'm a fool—a jealous fool. I ought to be hard-boiled, heaven knows, with two divorces and everything, but I've got that soft streak in me, always falling for somebody like a ton of bricks . . . and with Will'um and me it was love at first sight. I was going with Rollo, and all set for the wedding, and I met Will'um . . . I can't explain it, but it was different from any time before . . . we were sort of made for each other . . different . . ."

"All right—but don't talk about it. Please!"

"But he was so cold when he kissed me good-bye," Ruth sobbed. "Not a bit like himself. I hardly slept a wink all night. So I thought—"

Joan closed her eyes. "Please—please don't talk about it—"

Ruth saw Joan's face, greenish in the half light. "Joan—there's no use in you and I falling out over him. You saw him first, and now it's I, but there were others, and there will be others—I'm not fool enough to forget that, and don't you be. So—"

"Ruth!" Joan almost screamed. "I'm telling you the truth. I was never so sick and disgusted with anyone in my whole life as I am with Bill Martin. I'm sick of looking at him, and sick of hearing about him. No, for heavens sake—stop!"

"Of—if that's the way you feel about it." Ruth took out her vanity box, began to repair her ravaged complexion. "Good night! Will you look how my eyelashes have run?"

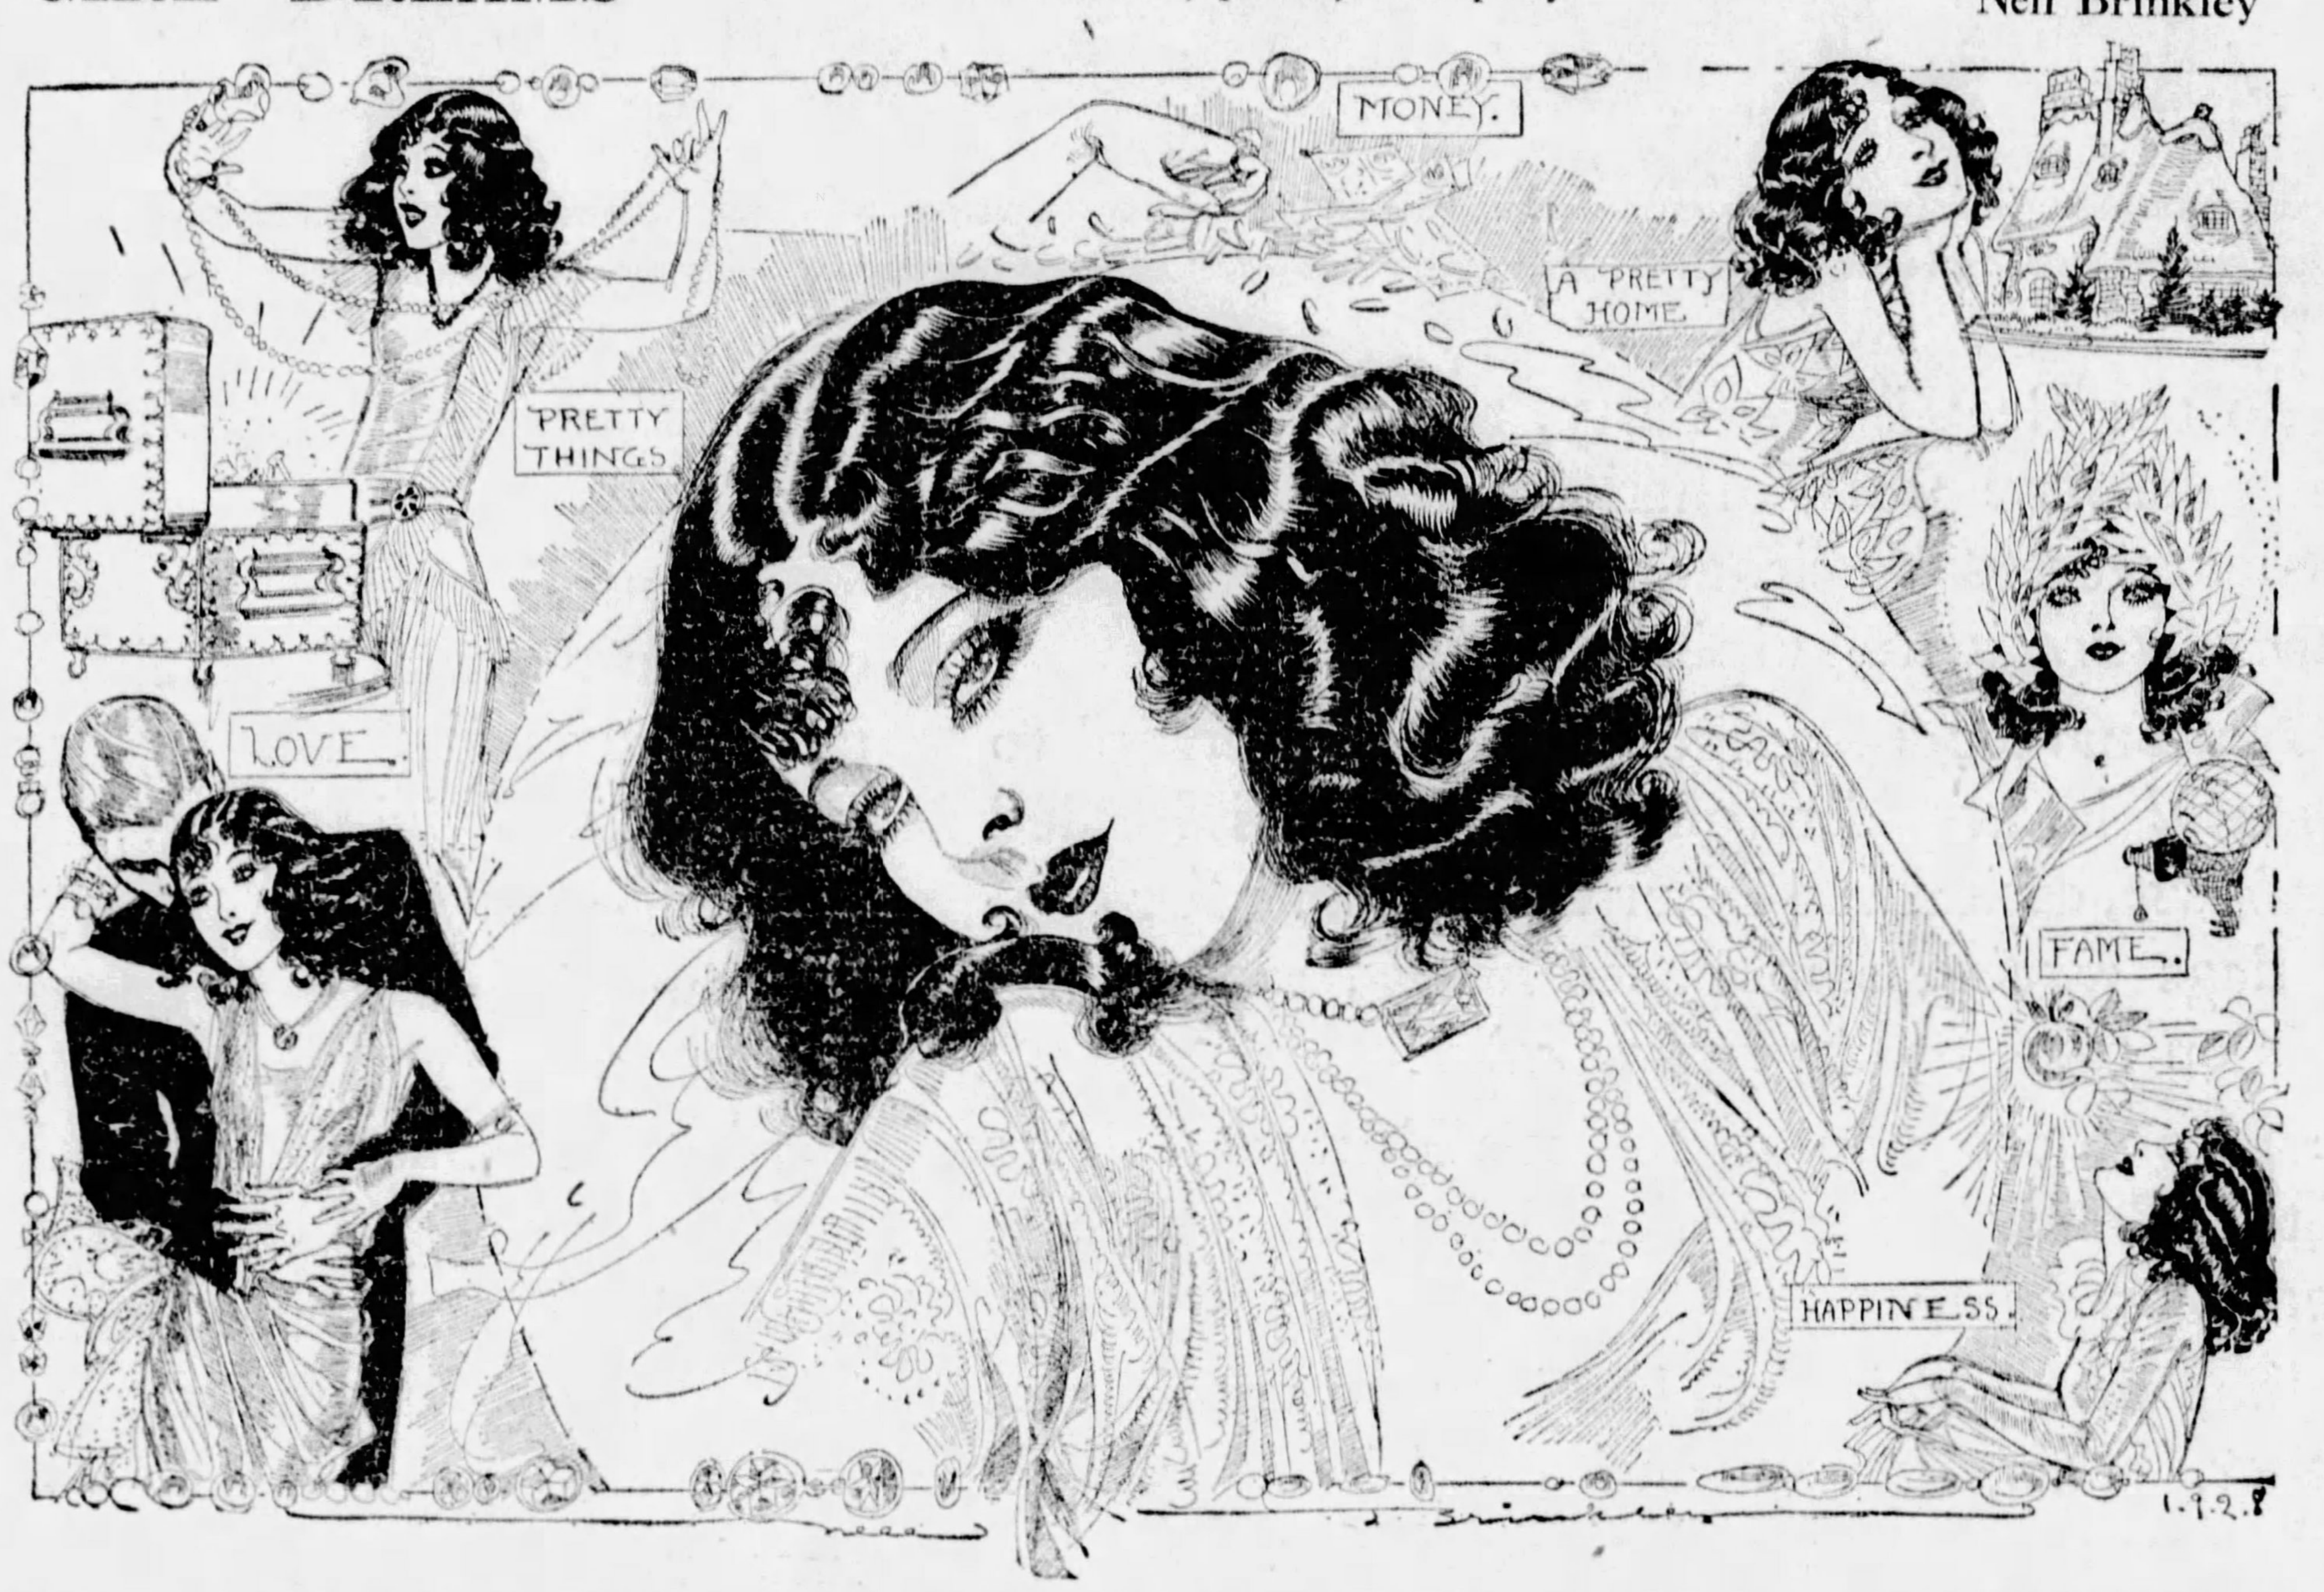
GIRL—DREAMS

"All of them, please," she prays

Drawn by Nell Brinkley



BACK in another century—no matter which one, with certainty it will look more romantic, more colorful, more interesting than our own—the girl called Araminta, stepping out in a quilted petticoat, a grey cloak with a tiny cape edged in white fur, with a hood to match, dreamed the same dreams, cast the same exploring eyes "at the boys"—to be withdrawn perhaps sooner than 1928 Mimi's—coveted the same trinkets, beads and what were then called gew-gaws, dreamed perhaps not so collectively—of fame. But DID dream of it, for other ages had their George Elliots, Rosa Bonheurs, Vigee Le Bruns, Chaminades, Miss Mitfords. Under the Empire gown, the farthingale, the crinoline, the cote-hardie, the soft womanly body was exactly and always the same. And just so was the heart and the head. It was only the frock, the coiffeur, and the manners that were different, one age from another.

Araminta wanted, and dreamed of, LOVE—PRETTY THINGS—MONEY—A BEAUTIFUL HOME—FAME—and—HAPPINESS.

And pretty Mimi, home in her shiny loafing jacket, after marching on the roaring streets in her neat, scant dress and Robin Hood-like hat, home after earning her living all day—THAT, perhaps I'll give in, Araminta never did—dreams of LOVE—PRETTY THINGS—MONEY—A PRETTY HOME—which she MAY earn herself—score two for 1928 Mimi—FAME—AND HAPPINESS.

"All of it, please," she prays earnestly. Not remembering that you are a daring mortal to expect all of that in one little square palm.

Pretty Mimi, dreaming and wishing, harmlessly and innocently, you will come nearest to having it ALL if you are—"a good girl."

For that brings, surest of all, the golden apple of HAPPINESS plump into your lap. And having that you are—"a good girl." —NELL BRINKLEY.

Sayings of Mrs. Solomon

By HELEN ROWLAND

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

MY DAUGHTER, wherefore was woman born to suffer, while man cometh into the world to rejoice?

* * *

Lo, the answer is simpler than a reducing diet and plainer than a tailored hat.

* * *

For, alas, woman taketh the world and all the people in it seriously, but a man taketh nobody seriously save HIMSELF!

* * *

A woman doubteth and dreadeth what others may THINK of her; she cherisheth their good opinions and huggeth them to her heart. But a man is concerned only with his OWN opinions. And, if he is pleased with himself, that is sufficient!

HELEN ROWLAND

Behold, when a woman first meeteth a man, she saith in her heart, "I wonder if he findeth me pleasing?"

* * *

But when a man meeteth a damsel, he saith in his heart, "Now, I wonder if I shall find her pleasing?"

* * *

Whatsoever a woman doeth, she saith, "I wonder what THEY will say!"

* * *

But, whatsoever a man delighteth to do, he DOTH it, and asketh no man's approval and no woman's permission.

* * *

When a woman arrayeth herself in a new garment, she is filled with doubt as to whether she shall be beautiful in a man's eyes.

* * *

But when a man goeth forth wearing a new $4 hat, he is as one that cryeth, "Oh, look who's here!" And his heart doubteth not that he fulfilleth ALL a woman's artistic ideals and satisfieth her sense of beauty.

* * *

When a woman faileth to win a man's heart, she weepeth, saying, "Alas, how lacking must I be in charm!"

* * *

But when a man faileth to win a damsel's heart, he saith only, "How lacking must she be in sense! For, verily, she knoweth not her own mind. Yea, she is blind to her own good luck!"

* * *

Thus, my Daughter, doth a woman elect herself The World's Champion Worrier.

But a man is "wise to his own conceit"—and his CONCEIT keepeth him happy all the days of his life.

* * *

Verily, verily, conceit is as a raincoat, off which the opintons of others roll as water; but a woman's vanity is as chiffon, through which EVERYTHING penetrateth! Hence is woman the Suffering Sex! SELAH.

Horoscopes

Sunday, October 28

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds prospect of many important affairs, with new projects and sudden moves under consideration. Financial returns seem assured, but there should be care taken in making contracts. There may be slight delays or disappointments. Transactions with corporations, religious bodies or secret orders may thrive.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate the good fortunes of an important year in which advancement and progress in many lines are assured, despite slight delays and anxieties.

A child born on this day should be equipped for large and important affairs in which tact and stratagem will be the requisite qualifications. It may rise to prominent position in life.

Zeal and duty are not slow but on Occasion's forelock wait.

—MILTON.

Monday, October 29

MONDAY'S astrological forecast emphasizes the importance of small gains and advantages, with the probable fulfillment of small ambitions and desires. The energies may be stimulated to activities of a secondary nature and there may be trifling annoyances, changes or injuries.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of fairly active conditions, with small gains and benefits. Some slight ambitions may be fulfilled.

A child born on this day may be fairly active and energetic but may not crave the things of first magnitude, being satisfied with small ambitions and achievements.

Let's live with that small pittance which we have, who covets more is evermore a slave.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood Recalls a Frightful Moment

"REMEMBER?"

The significant word, uttered in Harry Underwood's deep, resonant voice seemed to carom around the little veranda before it came to rest in my consciousness. I remembered only too well the half-jesting, half-earnest words he used to say to me whenever he found me alone—theatric declarations of his emotions toward me—and his plans for me, so fantastic that I never knew whether to laugh or to be angry.

I stirred uneasily. Surely he was not going to begin that nonsensical ranting again. It had been embarrassing and annoying when he was separated from Lillian, and months, even years, stretched between his occasional spectacular reappearances in our lives. It would be unthinkable now that Lillian had listened to his appeals and taken him back into her life, a procedure which would entail, I knew, the old close intimacy between her household.

Mr. Underwood caught my movement and gave a diabolical little chuckle. I remembered his inordinate love of teasing and realized that I must be extremely wary in my treatment of his vagaries. If he thought that they embarrassed me I was afraid that he would revel in repeating them.

"Still doubling for a 'startled fawn,' Lady Fair?" he gibed, and then as I flushed hotly, he dropped his bantering manner in a flash.

"Let's get this straight, my dear," he said, soberly. "On my honor, you're never going to be fussed again by any fool talk of mine. I'll probably badger the life out of you when Dicky and Lil are around and—maybe—sometimes—when they're not. It's too great a temptation to see you blush, but—get me on this—there won't be any reason for that divine color of yours except your own propensity to show up the red rose as a piker whenever you're vexed."

There was a ring of sincerity in his deep voice which made me believe him. There was something else also which I fancied I heard, a note of doubt, a tremulous agitation utterly foreign to Harry Underwood.

"But before we embalm this subject and give it decent burial," he went on hurriedly, "there's something in the confession line—no, don't interrupt!" with a touch of authority—"this has got to be said."

He stopped abruptly and sent his gaze out over the rose garden just below us. Patently he was bolstering his courage for what he meant to tell me. The next instant his steady, almost staring, gaze returned to my face.

"Ever since I first saw you, Lady Fair," he began slowly, "at the theater—remember—a few weeks after you and old Dicky told the minister your real names—I've been handing you a line about the old heart pumping overtime every time I lamped you, and how sometime I was going to grab you from under Dicky's nose. I don't think you took much stock in it—laughed at me most generally—but I've got to tell you—that—the crazy—idea—of getting you—was behind that damnable stunt—of mine—you know—at Mineola."

His words were coming jerkily, with painful little pauses between them, beads of water stood upon his forehead, and his brilliant, burning eyes dropped from mine as if in utter abasement. I found myself sitting erect in my chair, my hands clenched, my memory going over the terrible picture which his words had evoked.

Again I was at the flying field in Mineola to which I had been summoned by a mysterious message. I was all unsuspecting that Dicky—whose apparent apathy toward our part in the World War had shocked me—was in secret training at aviation headquarters, was to make a solo flight upon that day and had engineered my presence there as a surprise to me.

Once more I wondered at seeing an automobile dash across the field as though something were terribly wrong—an automobile in which Harry Underwood sat between two officers. I had not seen him since he had gone out of Lillian's life, presumably with Grace Draper, but I had heard that he was sodden with drink most of his time. He was deadly sober upon that day, however, and immediately upon his passing, the field sprang into activity sinister and significant. Ambulances were sent to different parts of the field, patrols were reenforced and pushed the crowds as far back from the lines as was possible, while in the faces and actions of the officials scanning the sky there was the unmistakable expectancy of tragedy.

For the Lovelorn

Puzzled

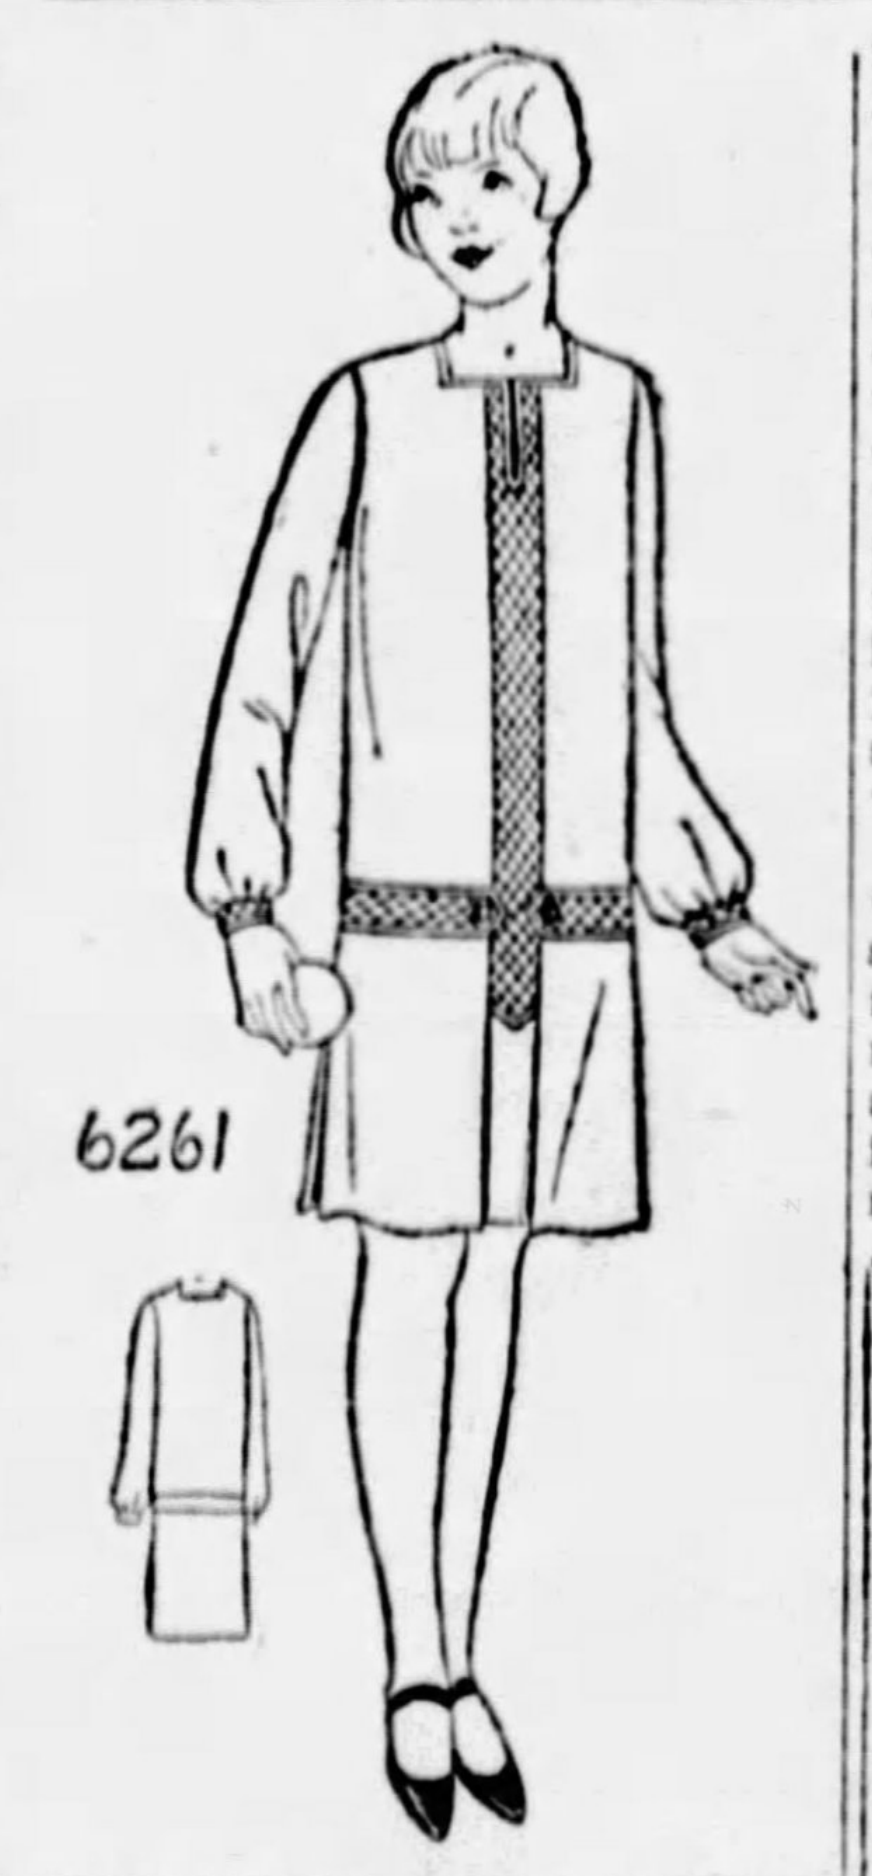
DEAR MISS GALE:

I am a stranger to your column, and although I have no love affairs to discuss, would like some good sound advice on just "me." My problem is just "Am I right?" I was just recently graduated from high school, and although not of the studious type, graduated with high honors. During my four years in high, I never had a "date" with a boy. In fact, I never had what girls call "boy friends." I was on equal friendly terms with all the boys, just as I was with the girls. No, I am not a "back number," for putting all boasting aside, I was one of the most popular girls in my class, and spent four of the happiest years of my life without the aid of a so-called "boy friend." I will not even mention smoking, petting, etc., for I am one of those who still believes that a truly real American girl would refuse to stoop to such forms of entertainment. I am not old-fashioned, and I have not been raised by a "stiff-necked" family, but I have been taught right from wrong. But it is not only my respect for the teachings of my parents that has given me these views, it's just "me." I do not dislike boys, and can have just as good a time with boys as I can with girls, that is, just as long as they behave like boys. There must be something wrong somewhere, Miss Gale. It is that I am too young for my age, or are the majority of young folks of today too old for their age?

PUZZLED.

I wish there were more girls like you, my dear. You are far too young to be worrying about your indifference to boys as sweethearts, so think no more about it and enjoy life in your own way.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern



A CHIC MODEL FOR A SCHOOL DRESS.

In this attractive style the neck line continues as an opening at the top of a narrow panel which ends in a point below the belt and is outlined by smart side plaits; these and similar plaits at the underarm seams lend fulness to the dress and give freedom in movement. Brown cashmere was chosen for this frock, with trimming of brown and white checked woolen. This style is nice in linen or crepe de chine with the panel, belt and cuffs in a contrasting color, or piped with a contrasting color. Gingham and cotton prints are also desirable for this style. Blue linen and white organdy would be a good combination.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10-year size will require 3 yards of 27-inch material and ⅝ yard of contrasting material for facing on panel, cuffs and belt. If finished with bias binding as illustrated 3¾ yards will be required for this.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

How to Keep Well

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

Youngsters Often Awaken Terrified

YOUNG children have disturbances in the sleep just as adults do. Their highly organized nervous systems make them more sensitive and they express their feelings more violently.

DR. COPELAND

"Night-terrors" sometimes come to frighten the child and cause it to awaken cold, screaming in agony. Even though the youngster appears to be in perfect health, there may be such an attack.

An older child may jump out of bed and run screaming about the room. Even the mother is unrecognized and there may appear to be an utter lack of consciousness. It is extremely difficult to pacify the fears of the frightened child.

It is rare to have more than one spell in a night. This is likely to come after a couple of hours of sleep. It may come every night or may occur infrequently.

It is probable some digestive disturbance is responsible for such an attack. Of course, most children have such good digestion that they are not afflicted in this manner. But if there is a highly sensitive nervous organization, a digestive disturbance of small importance may have this effect.

The way to treat night-terrors, if I may put it this way, is to avoid the conditions responsible for them. Careful attention to the diet is of greatest importance. Proper feeding and prohibition of such foods as are known to upset the child are things which suggest themselves.

Sensitive children, having highly organized nerves, must be kept from excitement. Romping and carrying on just before bedtime should be avoided. It is essential that the evening meal should be a light one. All the meals, indeed, should be wisely planned.

Lots of sunshine and fresh air, ventilation of the sleeping room, the avoidance of too much bed clothes and regular bowel and kidney movements must be given attention. Do not overlook them.

If these attacks of night-terrors are frequent or increasingly severe, talk with your doctor. He will advise you.

An occasional child appears to be more or less sleepless on occasion, or all the time, indeed. Colicky pains or other digestive symptoms may break the rest and interfere with those hours of uninterrupted sleep so important for a baby or older child.

I regard constipation as the most fruitful cause for sleeplessness in adults. It is equally important in infants. The mother must take care to have the feeding mixture just right. Too much sugar or too much cream may interfere with normal bowel action.

Overfeeding, crowding the little stomach is another factor to be considered. It requires eternal watchfulness to make sure the little chap is getting exactly the right amounts of precisely the right food.

Older children may be restless and sleepless because they have been put to bed too early. Regularity in this matter must be observed.

The child may seem hot and restless on this account. A sponge bath will cool the skin, giving such comfort as to invite sleep almost immediately.

No child, tiny or bigger, can be happy, well nourished and vigorously healthy without an abundance of sleep. Care must be taken to do away with all those things that cause night terrors, restlessness, or sleeplessness. A little study on the part of the mother will solve the problem.

Answer to Health Query

M. M.—Q. I am a middle-aged woman and suffer with cold feet and legs. They have a dead feeling, and just before it rains feel very heavy and uncomfortable. What would you suggest?

A. Rheumatism and poor circulation would account for symptoms such as you describe. Massage and application of heat should give relief until the exact source of infection has been located.

Q.—What can I do to get rid of pimples?

A.—You must correct your diet and keep the intestinal tract clear.

UNBEATEN TEAMS IN BATTLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Some of the best things the present season has to offer in the way of football entertainment will be offered up today before capacity crowds, certain to total in the neighborhood of half a million persons in the East alone. Nothing draws like the prospect of a fight, and that incentive is to be found in practically all of the 44 games on the schedule in this single section of the country.

An additional attraction at the great Yale bowl which promises to produce the banner attendance of the day is the pomp and pageantry which always accompany a Yale-Army game. With two of the season's strongest undefeated teams meeting there this year in a colorful setting born of a rivalry dating back to 1893, the great stadium probably could be sold out a couple of times.

ALMOST 500,000 TO ATTEND

Seats will be at a premium at a score of other games and a rough computation shows that 10 of the biggest will be witnessed by a throng aggregating 295,000.

Assigning the highly conservative average of 3,000 attendance to each of the remaining 34 games among

HOLDOUT

Roy Worters, generally regarded as the best goalie in the ice sport today, made a neat stop of the Pirate officials' contract shot. Roy wants more pay and doesn't care who knows it, and, because good goalies are a very scarce article, he is likely to get the desired boost. He is shown above as he appeared yesterday at the club's first workout in the Garden.

CLEGHORN STRENGTHENS CLUB WITH NEW PLAYERS

Manager Odie Cleghorn is confident that Paddy Sullivan and Toots Holway will add greatly to the Pirates' strength. Sullivan, former star in local amateur ice circles, who is returning to league hockey after a couple of years' layoff, is a candidate for the center job, and Holway, recently purchased from the Montreal Maroons, is out to win a defense berth. When in his prime, Paddy was regarded as one of the best poke-checkers in the game. He is working diligently in an effort to regain his old-time form, and it would not be surprising if he were to become a Pirate fixture. Holway is the giant of the local squad, standing better than 6 feet in his socks and weighing 190 pounds. He is an extremely good bet to be at one of the defense spots when the season opens.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Carnegie Tech Has Edge Over Pitt—Several Undefeated Grid Teams May Fall—Worters Not to Be Traded or Sold—Carey Not Officially Told of Managerial Chance.

TRYING to pick the winner of a modern football game is a risky undertaking, even when one side appears to have a decided advantage, for there is no telling but that the date of the contest may be the very occasion on which the seemingly stronger team is fated to have an off-day and the weaker aggregation is destined to rise to new heights or to profit by an unusual number of lucky breaks.

Judge Steffen.

No one expected the Dukes to beat W. & J., West Virginia was doped to lose to Pitt, and a number of other games this fall have resulted in startling upsets.

BUT if it may be taken for granted that both sides will run true to the relative form that is indicated by a size-up of their various qualities on paper, it looks as if Carnegie Tech ought to win over Pitt in their annual clash at the Stadium this afternoon, the high spot of the gridiron season in this city.

Not that Judge Steffen's Skibos are likely to have anything on the order of a walkover. Pitt, as well as Carnegie, is generally brimming over with spirit on an occasion such as this, when there is so much at stake, and the Panthers, under Dr. Sutherland's coaching, have often shown unexpected strength when the odds appeared to be hopelessly against them.

SO IT is safe to predict that the wearers of the Blue and Gold will be in there fighting their heads off today, and if they happen to get a few breaks at critical stages they may accomplish more than the dope indicates as being probable.

The Skibos will have to battle hard for all they get, therefore, but notwithstanding this, they seem to hold such an edge in size, number of experienced players, strength of replacements and consistency of play to date that it will be surprising if victory does not perch on the Plaid banner.

GREATER weight alone would appear to make the chances favor the Tartan, even if other things were equal. The avoirdupois of the Schenley Park warriors published prior to the W. & J. game a week ago showed the total weight of the 11 regulars to be 2,138 pounds, or an average of 193 5-11 per man. This makes Carnegie possibly the heaviest team that has played for a Western Pennsylvania institution in nearly two decades. Such a weight would put the Steffenites on a par with Nebraska, the Georgetown team of 1915 and the Syracuse eleven of 1916, these being the heaviest outfit that present-day fans of the Pittsburgh district knows much about.

Dr. Sutherland.

CARNEGIE'S average against W. & J. was 18½ per man greater than that of W. & J., and it will be 16 3-11 pounds per man heavier than that of Pitt today, even if Parkinson is able to play. If that husky fullback is out, the disparity will be even greater, as his substitute is many pounds lighter.

This Pitt team is lighter this year than usual, Parkinson and Getto being the only really big boys on it—big in the sense

PRESIDENTS PLAY FORDHAM

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Fordham enthusiasts believe their gridiron warriors have an even chance for victory over Wash-Jeff in the gridiron struggle to be played at the Polo Grounds this afternoon.

The Cavanaugh-coached eleven showed a fine aerial attack against Holy Cross last week and expects to use it to a large extent against the Presidents. Capt. Aschman and his team mates lost to Duquesne and Carnegie Tech through inability to defend against the forward pass and seemingly they are in for another strenuous afternoon.

The Presidents yesterday were taken to the Wingfoot Country Club on Long Island to remain until near game time.

W. & J. will start without Capt. Aschman and Jap Douds, but the remainder of the lineup will be intact.

Speaking of Sports

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

THE National Boxing Federation, which is heard from only every so often, is in the limelight again, this time as the result of the secession from its ranks of the Canadian Association, which now may hook up with the New York Commission to fight the N. B. F. The defection is due to politics which prevented the re-election of a Canadian member to a vice presidency.

The break comes at a time when boxing everywhere is in the doldrums, and suggests the thought that what the sport needs is more good bouts, more champions willing to defend their titles and less politics.

Word comes that the New York body is trying to effect a reconciliation with the Pennsylvania board, which some time ago was forced, to preserve its dignity, to sever relations with the New York commission because of the superior attitude of the latter organization. By the terms of the agreement between them they were bound to respect each other's suspensions and other rulings. Pennsylvania lived up to this pact, but New York did so only when it felt is could conveniently comply. Boxers suspended in Pennsylvania were banned also in New York when they did not have influential friends who could go to court for them there. A glaring example was the case of Yale Okun, who contracted to appear in Motor Square Garden here and then pulled out of the match to accept a more lucrative offering in Madison Square Garden, New York. His cabinet of managers was powerful enough to keep him in the good graces of the board in his home state.

A NATIONAL or international commission for boxing would be a desirable organization, but it would have to include All states or ALL countries and would have to operate harmoniously to prove effective. There seems little hope of ever getting anywhere so long as New York considers itself of more importance than such a nation-wide or world-wide chain.

Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey and now pilot of Mickey Walker, does not always utter constructive remarks with regard to the welfare of boxing, but he just about hit the nail on the head the other day when he said that the New York commission was getting to the point where it was a hindrance to the development of boxing. Its many rules, he pointed out, stifle the growth of the sport, in that they interfere with the making of matches that would be attractive to the public and would develop into great battles.

KEARNS was speaking in the interest of Walker, a notorious slacker when it comes to defending his middleweight title and trying to grab those of other rulers, but, nevertheless, he struck home. He is trying to make a match between Walker and Tommy Loughran, for Loughran's light-heavyweight championship. The commission insists that all champions remain in their own classes, except by special dispensation, and refuses Walker dispensation in this instance until he has defended his

STATE HOST TO SYRACUSE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—The Penn State squad rested yesterday afternoon as a final bit of preparation for the invasion by the Syracuse eleven today. The visitors arrived yesterday morning after an overnight trip to Bellefonte. The Orange squad comprised 28 men, all of whom were in uniform for a half-hour workout yesterday afternoon.

The Penn State lineup will probably be shifted again for the game, with Hamas and Wolff, backfield veterans, starting after a week on the second team.

ST. VINCENT'S SQUAD OFF FOR TILT AT WHEELING

LATROBE, Pa., Oct. 27.—St. Vincent's College football squad left here early this morning in a special car for Wheeling, where West Liberty will be met this afternoon. Coach Crowe took the entire squad and will substitute freely this afternoon. He wants to save his men for the game with St. Francis, November 3, here.

BUSH, DREYFUSS IN CONFERENCE HERE TODAY

Donie Bush, manager of the Pirates, arrived in Pittsburgh this morning from his Indianapolis home for a conference with Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the team. It was believed that Dreyfuss and Bush would discuss the latter's contract for next season.

Bush expects to see the Panthers and Tartans clash at the stadium this afternoon.

Alfred Scores First Win in Three Years

ALFRED, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(INS.)—The old saying about "try, try again" proved its worth when the Alfred College football team scored a touchdown after three years of effort. Not only that. Alfred actually won, 6 to 2. The boys had to dig up an outfit known as Edinboro College to break their streak, and the unknown proved tough picking. After going through the final part of 1926 and all of 1927 without scoring a point, the Alfred point after touchdown kicker was a bit rusty from lack of practice, and missed the try for goal. Upsala College, tied with Alfred for scoreless honors for the past two seasons, is attempting to find out where this Edinboro College can be reached by mail, phone or wire.

CARNEGIE FAVORED TO WIN

By JESS CARVER.

UNDER the football fevered eyes of the thousands, the varsity football elevens of Pitt and Carnegie Tech will renew their 22-year-old gridiron duel on the turf of the Pitt Stadium today.

This is the game of games in Pittsburgh. Regarding with mere lethargic interest contests played here prior to this game, the city awakens to full realization of the season's presence for the annual Pitt and Tech fracas. They pack 'em in for this game and will continue to do just that as long as there are 11 men able to bear the armor of the gridiron in the two institutions.

Today's meeting will be the fifteenth in history. Pitt enjoys a big edge in the matter of games won, having taken 11 of the 14 played. Tech won thrice. So bitter have been all Pitt-Tech battles and so charged with the thrilling and unexpected that never has there been a tie.

Carnegie has been established a favorite in today's struggle. Once before, in 1926, the Tartans were conceded an edge, and they came through, winning 14 to 0. Such augurs ill for Pitt. But look back over the pages of football history and see how often underdog Pitt elevens have risen from their bandages, cast aside their crutches and smote hip and thigh the elite. That may happen today.

TECH HOPES HIGH

The Plaid hopes to secure a triumph over Pitt today through the use of a heavy, well-reserved eleven, made up of a dangerous combination of youthful stars and veteran stalwarts. Tech figures to outweigh Pitt on the average of 25 pounds to the man.

The individuals upon whom Tech is pinning its hopes are Capt. Howard Harpster, resourceful and clever quarterback; John Karcis, 230-pound fullback, and in a great set of tackles, Schmidt and Highberger.

Harpster is the big gun of the Tartan machine. He is the brains of the eleven, the best passer, punter and a sure defense man. As a ball carrier he ranks high, but with Karcis, Letzelter, Eyth and Moorehead to carry the ball, it has always been the policy of the Tech coaches to have Harp direct the team and permit others to tote the ball.

Pitt, spotting its rival's advantage in weight and in reserves, will offer a pair of fast, clever-stepping halfbacks in Josh Williams and Toby Uansa and a hard-charging, experienced line. It will not be known until game time whether Tom Parkinson, the big fullback, will be able to get into the game. If the Panthers come out of their hiding place with Parkinson in the starting lineup, their chances of upsetting the Skibos will be greatly improved. Parky is the only line smasher upon whom Sutherland can depend for steady gaining and who may be used to offset the figure Karcis is certain to cut.

In the event that Parkinson cannot get into the action, Whitey Walenchus is slated to start at full and team up with Montgomery at backing up the line.

The teams, both of which have

ROOKIES TO REPLACE VETS FOR CARDS

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

MANY of this year's Redbirds have been put on the trading block by various writers, but not much has been said in connection with prospective Cards for the next campaign.

In the midst of the series excitement little attention has been paid to the young players who seem to have the favor of Bill McKechnie and other St. Louis officials.

Consider the pitching division. Many believe that Grover Cleveland Alexander will not be a winning hurler next season. Replacing Alec the Great will be no easy matter, but Skipper Bill has access to two young pitchers who may come through.

The sharpshooters are Sylvester Johnson and Bill Hallahan. Johnson was a member of the Redbird entourage this year, while Hallahan, a kid lefthander, was the sensation of the Houston club of the Texas League.

Houston won the Texas League flag and followed through by defeating Birmingham in the exciting Class A competition. Birmingham was the winner of the title in the Southern League.

Hallahan was the feature of the Dixie series. He worked one contest against the Barons that was little short of a classic and then came back in the relief role to save the game of the succeeding day. As Houston is controlled by the Cardinals, Hallahan is likely to be a Redbird next year.

Johnson came along at a fast clip in the latter part of this year's race. Sylvester has a fast ball that ranks with the best in the National League.

The Syracuse farm will send at least one star to the Cardinals in the person of Shortstop Gilbert. The shortstop is a rangy fellow with driving power.

BENEFIT SHOW OFF

DETROIT, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—The George (Kid) Lavigne benefit fight was postponed until November 2 because of an eye injury to King Tut, who is to oppose Lope Tonorio, Filipino, in the main event on the card. Proceeds from the show are to be used in erecting a memorial to Lavigne.

LEHIGH ON EDGE

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—After a week which has been marked by the hardest training both squads have encountered this season, Lehigh and Muhlenberg are ready for their annual battle today at Taylor Stadium, where all previous clashes have been staged.

SCHENLEY HIGH VICTOR OVER OLIVER, 6-0

Schenley High School's football steam roller continued its advance toward the city championship yesterday when it eked out a 6-0 victory over Oliver High School on the Bellefielders' grounds in Herron Hill. It was a heated contest and, while Oliver seriously menaced the Schenley goal on several occasions, the Gross machine came out of the battle victor.

Joe Mihm was directly responsible for the Schenley goal. It took more than a quarter for Schenley to advance the ball, and shortly in the second the Bellefielders' fullback touched it on the scoring side of the goal line. Capt. Bud Loder, who was bothered with an injured knee, failed in the try for extra point. Neither team was able to score thereafter, although both came within scoring distance.

Oliver was somewhat depressed throughout following the serious injury to its quarterback, Bob Roney, who suffered a fractured leg early in the first period.

In other scholastic games, South Hills came out of a non-league match with Dormont victor by 6 to 0; Allegheny was an easy winner over Shady Side Academy, 34-0; East Pittsburgh downed Munhall, 32-0; Ben Avon whitewashed Crafton, 7-0, and Duquesne trimmed Swissvale, 24 to 6. The lineup:

Speaking Of Sports

own crown. This part is fair enough, but it is also suggested that Walker, who has knocked out Armand Emanual, now a heavyweight; Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion, and other big fellows, is not large enough to tussle with the clever Loughran.

"The New York commission laughed at the idea of a Jack Dempsey-Tom Gibbons bout. Said Gibbons was too small. Yet Dempsey couldn't knock Gibbons off his feet in 15 rounds when they met later at Shelby, Mont.," Kearns said. "And at first it tried to laugh off the idea of a Dempsey-Firpo fight, and Firpo almost knocked out Dempsey. And it shooed the Tunney-Dempsey match out of the state, claiming the wreck of Harry Wills was the logical contender, and Tunney took Dempsey for the crown, while Jack Sharkey slaughtered Wills shortly afterward. What does that august commission know about matchmaking, anyway? And yet it continues to impose its opinions on the matchmakers and promoters under the guise of protecting the public."

KEARNS is right about that matchmaking angle. No commission should set itself up as a matchmaker. It should not suggest matches at any time. It should wait until the promoters make the matches and apply for approval of them and then either o. k. or reject them. The Pennsylvania commission has shown a lot of good sense in this connection. It seldom, if ever, has been guilty of attempting to assume the role of matchmaker for any club or promoter.

In addition to the battle with Carnegie Tech, Pitt men today have their eyes focussed on the meeting between Syracuse and Penn State at State College. Syracuse plays the Panthers here next Saturday and Penn State comes here on Thanksgiving Day. The Pitt scouts expect to get an eyeful of today's doings for the information of Coach Sutherland.

SPORT COMMENT

that nearly all of the plaid players of this season are big. Even last season, Pitt's weight was below the Panthers yearly average, and this fall's team is lighter than the 1927 outfit. On the other hand, Carnegie has an exceptionally heavy and powerful eleven, as may be judged from the fact that one end weighs 192 pounds, and there are players ranging from 202 to 230 pounds, both guards and one tackle.

JIMMY HAGAN, one of Pitt's star halfbacks in 1925, 1926 and 1927, and who was particularly brilliant last year, is far from the scene of Pitt-Carnegie action today, but his heart will be at the Stadium.

Hagan is employed in Chicago at present and a Pittsburgh man who returned from that city yesterday reports that he had a long talk with the Windber High School product with football as the main topic.

"JIMMY is the same clean, decent lad he always was," said the Pittsburgher, "and his boss assured me he was making good, with a vengeance, just as might have been expected. In his usual quiet manner Jimmy remarked to me during a discussion of the Pitt-Carnegie game: 'I would break a leg to help the boys win this one.' And here is one case where I believe he meant it literally. If Pitt had a couple of Jimmy Hagans on this year's team the prospects would be better."

Jimmy Hagan.

SOME of the big college football teams that have not been beaten this year are likely to be erased from the undefeated list before nightfall, as they will be up against formidable opposition in this afternoon's games.

At least one of the elevens not yet defeated nor tied is certain to go down at New Haven unless the contest ends in a draw, as the Army and Yale are to come together. Both have been scored on, Yale twice and the Army once, but neither has been beaten nor held to a tie, though the Army had a close call when it nosed out Southern Methodist by a score of only 14 to 13.

SEVERAL of the other undefeated teams will have a hard time keeping their slates clean in the tough games that they must play today. As in the case of the Army and Yale, one eleven or the other must suffer its first beating, barring a tie, when Nebraska meets Missouri, also when Iowa encounters Minnesota and Princeton faces Cornell.

Dartmouth has Harvard to beat, Ohio State must take on Indiana, New York University is up against Colgate, Tufts is called upon to tackle Brown, Wisconsin contracts to give Michigan the latter's fourth straight defeat, Georgia Tech plays North Carolina, Penn tangles with the thus far feeble Navy, Lafayette's opponent is West Virginia, Florida tussles with North Carolina State, Temple lines up against Providence, Connecticut Aggies play Vermont, and Florida meets Sewanee. The first named team in each of the above games has yet to taste defeat. Princeton (though once held to a tie), Lafayette (also tied), Penn, Tufts, Georgia Tech, Florida, Temple and Connecticut Aggies have not been scored on.

WHETHER Roy Worters signs with Pittsburgh or not he will not be sold or traded to any other team. That was the announcement made by Benny Leonard yesterday in reply to rumors published in New York that Worters would be traded for Lional Conacher and Joe Miller. The goalie did not sign at his conference with Treasurer Leonard yesterday, but they departed on very friendly terms and it is probable that all differences will be straightened out at a second meeting, though Worters says he will stand pat. Benny now turns his attention to Bert McCaffrey and Harold Cotton, other holdouts, and is likely to get them in line quickly. Leonard is considering a suggestion made by Worters to improve team play—that a bonus or prize be offered for each assist as well as for each goal scored by a Pirate player. Benny also announced a change in the Pittsburgh uniforms. The Bucs will wear Harding blue jerseys, with a gold shoulder, and a gold stripe running through the blue background.

Bert McCaffrey.

MAX CAREY, former captain and centerfielder of the Pittsburgh baseball club, now a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers, arrived in Pittsburgh last night to spend a few days attending to business matters connected with his oil interests.

Questioned about Manager Robinson's offer to resign the Brooklyn managership provided the directors consented to name Carey in his place, Max said he had not received any official word on the subject.

EASTERN GRID

which are included such features as the Columbia-Williams, Brown-Tufts, Georgetown-Duke, Bucknell-Gettysburg and Boston College-Boston University affairs the figure climbs to 497,000.

It will take something like 1,000 young men in the peak of physical condition to do the entertaining. By now most of them have gone through the fire of three or four good games and here and there a sturdy team has proved outstanding quality.

Yale and Army are two of these. Both unbeaten and untied, you can write your own ticket here. Army has disposed of two major foes in Southern Methodist and Harvard, but just squeezed through the first of these engagements. Yale trimmed Georgia and trounced Brown in impressive fashion a week ago. Yale won last season by four points and has had the Indian sign on the Cadets most of the times they have met. Garvey for Yale and Cagle for Army, elusive sensational backs, seem likely to be the centers of attention.

BIG GREEN FAVORED

Dartmouth is being favored over Harvard largely because of the gazelle-footed Marsters and a tricky forward passing attack, and a strong Pennsylvania team is picked to beat the groggy Navy eleven which eked out its first victory in four starts at the expense of Duke last week.

New York University is favored over Colgate although the only blot on the upstaters' record is an early season reverse at the hands of Vanderbilt suffered in the Southerners' own climate. Colgate with Dumont, Dowler and Galloway has a team that will test such hitheto hardy violets as Capt. Al Lassman in the line and Ken Strong in the backfield. Last year's game resulted in a scoreless tie after Lassman had been taken out with a broken leg.

CORNELL MAY LOSE

Princeton is figured to beat Cornell by those who have been inclined to take Gil Dobie's sad stories seriously. The Tigers did it last year at Ithaca when relations were resumed after a lapse of 20 years, although the Red team gave them a scare at the start.

Holy Cross and Marquette revolve in different sectional orbits and there is little dope available.

Pitt, Tech Play Today

been in hiding at resorts outside the city, are not due to appear until shortly before game time. Neither coach will make any definite lineup announcement until time for the kickoff.

A defeat for the Tartans today will injure the chances that may be in store for the claiming of the eastern title. Georgetown, New York University and Notre Dame are still in the path of the Plaid, but a win over Pitt today will go a long way toward boosting the morale of the players so as to carry them through the gruelling battles to come.

Pitt must strive mightily to stave off defeat. Syracuse, Wash-Jeff, Nebraska and Penn State remain to be played. Defeat today will hardly serve to raise the Pitt spirit, especially since West Virginia has scored a triumph here.

University of Pittsburgh officials have completed arrangements for the handling of at least 50,000 fans. It is confidently expected that there will be in the neighborhood of 55,000 in the Stadium when the battle starts. There will be 1,350 general admission tickets placed on sale at noon for the benefit of those who wish to patronize the $1.25 section.

The two bands will be there—the Panther in its cage—the pretty girls—your wife, my wife—the bottles, both full and empty—mostly the latter, and the old football spirit. Looks like we'll all go to town this afternoon—eh wot?

While old Pitt and Tech are struggling in a death grip here, the city's other undefeated and untied eleven, the Durable Dukes, of Duquesne, will be putting their durability to its severest test at Beaver Falls, meeting up with Mac Flenniken's Geneva College Covenanters in a Tri-State Conference battle.

TITLE AT STAKE

Upon the result of the game will hinge the final settlement of the conference champion. Geneva is defending the laurel, having won it four years ago, when the organization first came into being, and through the excellent coaching of Bo McMillin has held it ever since.

The Dukes are cruising along on the crest of their greatest football year. It will be a great year, whether they beat Geneva or not, for Wash-Jeff, a bigger and more noted foe than Geneva, has been taken into camp. Geneva figures to beat the Dukes today, for the Covenanters have shown great power in their conference triumphs to date, and, despite the defeat suffered at the hands of Bucknell, have been recognized as having a fine eleven.

Duquesne is crippled for this struggle. Doggo Burns, the crack halfback and one of the stars of the Wash-Jeff triumph, went to Beaver Falls this morning as a spectator and not a player. His injured knee, one of those trick ones that insists on coming out, like a fall debutante, with the least provocation, has refused to heal under the skilled treatment administered by Brew (Big Shot) Jackson. Burns can't play today, and his loss is a severe one to Coach Layden.

HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

A special train is to leave the city at noon over the P. R. R., bearing a full 2,000 Duke rooters and the university band. The team left early this morning and will be quartered at one of Beaver Falls' inns.

The Duke reserve eleven is at Kiski today for a fracas with Bob Mittinger's Kiski warriors. Coach Propokovich of the Duke Preps is in charge of the local squad.

Preliminary to the Pitt-Tech varsity battle at the Stadium, the freshmen elevens of the institutions will do battle in the annual frosh-plebe embroglio. This contest is slated to start at 12:45.

J. H. Moffat, of Princeton, will referee the big game. J. L. Buckholt, Holy Cross, is to act as umpire; G. N. Bankhart, Dartmouth, head linesman, and C. L. S. Raby, Gettysburg, field judge.

And the starting time, fellow citizens, is 2:30 p. m. Be there!

BELLEVERNON BEATS PERRY

BELLEVERNON, Pa., Oct. 27.—Displaying a beautiful aerial attack, the Bellevernon High gridders outplayed and outsmarted their heavier opponents, Perry High of Pittsburgh, from start to finish before a crowd of 2,000 fans, 12 to 7, here yesterday.

P. A. A. CLOSED TITLE SWIM MEET CARDED

The Pittsburgh Athletic Association will hold its seventh annual closed swimming championships and toy speed boat regatta tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

The meet will be opened by a match race between 6-year-old girls. The toy speed boat races are always entertaining and the club championships for both girls and boys in various age classes are certain to be close and hard-fought.

The feature, however, is the open event on the program—50-yard free-style race for men for the Thomas Oliver Matthews Memorial trophy. The trophy, which is a bronze plaque, was donated by Mrs. Bertha L. Matthews in memory of her son, Tim, who, at the time of his death, was the captain of the Winged Head team.

OLIVER HALFBACK GAINS ON DOUBLE PASS

Though Schenley High was victorious in its annual intersectional battle at Malone Field yesterday against Oliver, the North Side eleven gave the Bellefielders a great ball game. At one time its attack failed by inches to put a touchdown across. Halfback Worablak, of Oliver, is shown above as he made a fine gain on a double pass play around Schenley's left end. He netted 18 yards and a first down on the play, putting the ball within scoring distance for Oliver.

PHIL GOLDSTEIN DUE TOMORROW

PHIL (CHAPPIE) GOLDSTEIN, local Jewish lightweight star, returns tomorrow from his boxing headquarters in New York, where he has been training for his 10-round windup battle with Cuddy DeMarco, local veteran, at Motor Square Garden, Monday night. He will work out lightly in the Motor Square gymnasium tomorrow afternoon.

DeMarco is scheduled to put the finishing touches on his hard training in the Webster Hall gymnasium today. Cuddy has done all of his recent conditioning there and says that with the facilities available he will be in better fighting trim than he has been for a local fight in a long time.

The bout will be a duel between the experience of DeMarco and the youth and agility of the ambitious Goldstein. Compared with DeMarco, Phil is a mere boxing babe in arms, although he has done considerable campaigning against stars here and in the East since he quit the amateur ranks a few seasons ago.

Jackie Rodgers, Negro bantamweight flash of the North Side, meets Dan Billick of Duquesne, stablemate of Goldstein, in the eight-round semi-final Monday. Dominick Profio, welterweight knockout star of Cecil, boxes K. O. Chappie, a newcomer from Scranton, in the six-round preliminary; Dave McConnell, Irish-born lightweight of the North Side, and Bob Collera, a recent graduate of the amateur ranks, supply the four-round second event and Tiger Joe Randall, Negro welter from Elizabeth, Pa., and Marco Polo of the North Side will be seen in the four-round opener.

BILLICK ON SCENE

Dan Billick returned home yesterday from New York, preceding Goldstein by two days. Dan has had six bouts since turning professional two months ago under the management of Jimmy Bronson in New York, and has won all of them with the exception of his most recent one, against Willie Quebic, over the eight-round route at Passaic, N. J., last Tuesday night. This bout was declared a draw. He is in fine fettle and confident of making a good showing against Rodgers.

Jack Zivic is requested to communicate with Promoter Tom Lennon at Canton, O.

Al Waldeck of Tarentum will box Young Smackey of Canonsburg and Joe Severn of Tarentum will meet Red Ryan of Washington, Pa., in the preliminaries to the Young Rudy-Freddie Fitzgerald bout at Washington, Pa., Monday night. Harry Spencer of Washington and Pete Biltman of Pittsburgh are matched for the eight-round semi-final.

MOUNTAINEERS, MAROON SET

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 27.—(AP.)—Lafayette and West Virginia football squads rested last night only a few miles apart, on the eve of their engagement here today. The Mountaineers were at Bethlehem, where they went through a brief practice on Lehigh's gridiron, while Lafayette went through a short workout here yesterday.

The Maroons, extended to their limit in their scoreless tie battle with Bucknell last week, face even stronger opposition in the West Virginia combination which has lost only an upset game with Davis-Elkins. In their favor, the McCracken players have the traditional fact that a West Virginia eleven has never defeated the Maroons, the nearest approach to that objective being the 7-7 tie played last year at Morgantown.

SALEM TRIMS BROADDUS

SALEM, W. Va., Oct. 27.—Failing to get results at line-pounding after abandoning the extensively-planned aerial attack, Salem College played ragged ball at Philippi yesterday afternoon in defeating the Broaddus College eleven, 13-0.

The Town Hall
Should be down town central to all points of Allegheny County

We are urging the County Planning Commission and the County Commissioners to build the TOWN HALL on the large plot of ground of the Fourth Avenue Railroad Yard and adjacent property; bounded by Forbes Street, Liberty Bridge approach and Blvd. of Allies.

We are urging that the County Jail be removed and the site converted into a Public Square or Park; thereby creating a beautiful and magnificent Civic Center, of which the Court House (the Richardson Masterpiece), City-County Building, New County Building and TOWN HALL will each be an important part.

Our circular entitled "TEN MILLION DOLLARS FOR A CIVIC CENTER," contains aerial photograph and street plan.

We will gladly mail one to you upon request.

ROBBERS HOLD UP CLERK

Two armed robbers entered the confectionary of Louis Dougherty, 7755 Tioga street, late last night and held up the clerk, Nick Klever, and took $34 from a cash register.

Kleber told police that while one of the men kept a revolver pressed against his side, the other took the money.

Officers are Mrs. Joseph Blumenfield, president; Mrs. Samuel Littman, first vice president; Mrs. L. Pollack, second vice president; Mrs. Samuel Blumenfield, recording secretary; Mrs. J. H. Maid Disappears, So Does $9 In Cash

Mrs. J. L. Linecoff, 5845 Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, hired a new maid, she told police, but maid and $9 dissappeared at the same time, according to her complaint.

Mrs. Lineecoff told police the maid gave her name as Sarah Harris, Negro woman, of 905 Bedford avenue. The money disappeared from a table, Mrs. Linecoff said. The maid left in such a hurry that she forgot her coat and hat and an empty suit case, police were told.

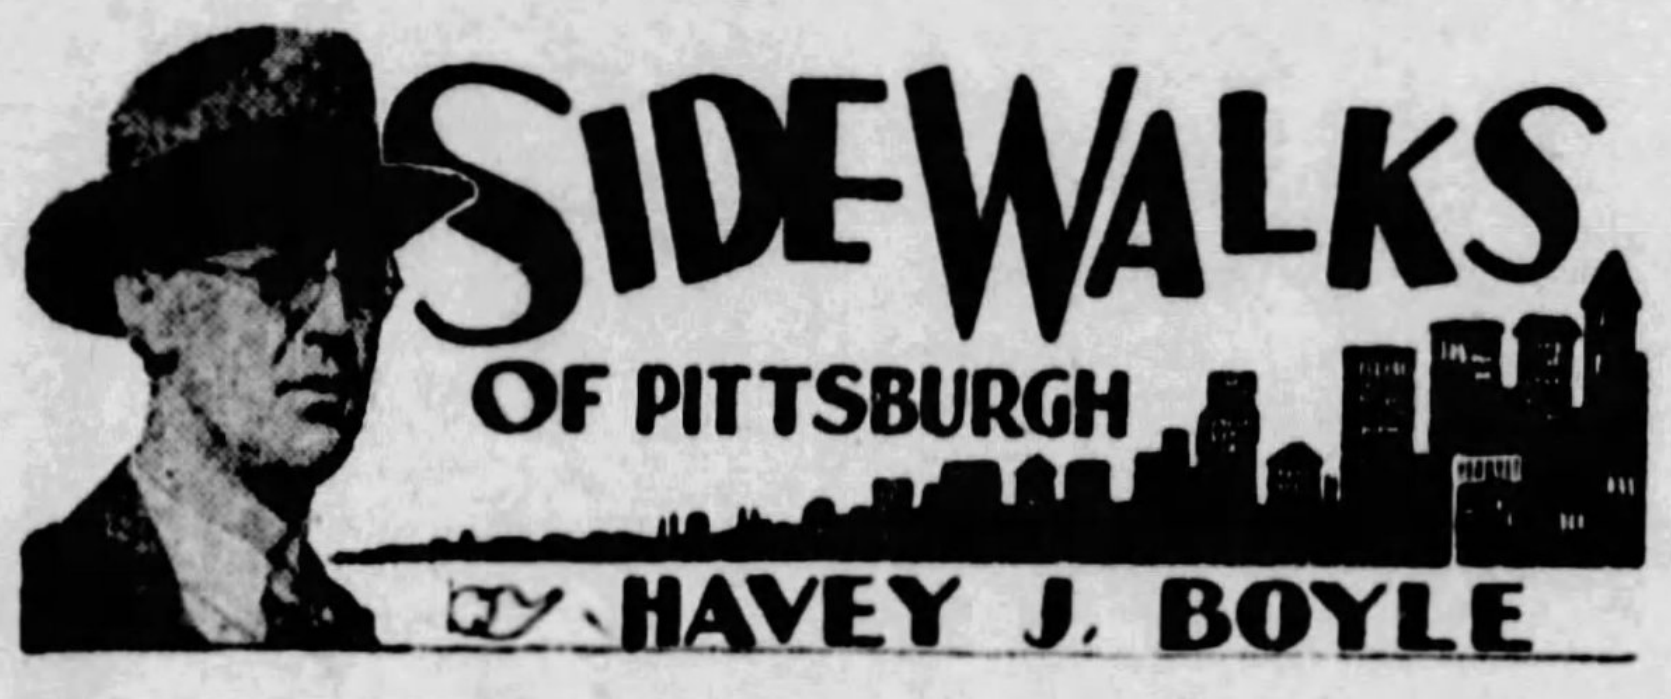
ROOMERS DISAPPEAR, TAKE BEDDING ALONG

Mrs. C. H. Hilles, of 7240 Idlewild street, East End, complained to police yesterday that the man and woman and three children to whom she had rented two rooms on Sunday night had disappeared, along with the bedclothes and linen valued at $100.



ALBERT V. ROSELL, a Pittsburgher by adoption, believes "thar's gold in them hills." He is a soft-spoken Peruvian, who gained an education in what he says is the oldest school on this continent,

THAR'S GOLD IN THEM HILLS!

the University of Lima, compared to which educational ancient Harvard is still in long clothes.

* * *

Mr. Rosell, who has an office at 743 Wbash Building, is making ready to embark on one of the oldest and thrilling adventures known—the quest for buried treasures of long dead centuries. In his native Peru, he says, there are hidden cities of gold, awaiting an intrepid explorer.

* * *

WHEN a famous Spaniard conquered Peru he was just a little careless in his methods of gathering up native heirlooms and trinkets of value. His naive custom of grabbing a precious set of earrings by cutting off the ears that went with them, made the natives just a little circumspect about exhibiting their treasures and so they hid them. And even before the Spaniards came much treasure—mostly gold—was laid away in the tombs of the Inca emperors to appease strangs gods, perhaps, or to satisfy the vanity of kings.

Now Mr. Rosell, who is by no means the first venturer for the hidden gold, plans an expedition to visit Peru, in the vicinity of Cusco, the old capital, and there unearth fabulous wealth.

* * *

MR. ROSELL traces his ancestry back to the first empire of Peru and on down through the centuries mothers have whispered to sons and sons to their children of where the gold was secreted.

DOWN BY THE BIG OAK
NO KIDDIN' MOM

The information was not trusted to treacherous quill or pen, but always was handed down by word of mouth.

* * *

But why don't Peruvians, themselves, go after this hidden treasure, which has been the subject of many a Sunday supplement article, as well as topics in magazines of research and exploration? Only a few know much about it and then there is a native inertia and, of course, politicians. Even in Peru there are precinct leaders and now and then a zero district.

AN EXPEDITION under the protection of the American flag, Mr. Rosell says, would encounter only a few of the difficulties that a native expedition would suffer.

Mr. Rosell needs an archaeologist, an engineer, as well as three or four huskies who can swing well-guided and resolute fists. For on a night, when the sky is moonless, there may be work now and then for a few huskies.

* * *

Mr. Rosell, who tells of an American who found great wealth in Peru in treasure hunting, does not own the air of a stock salesman or the fellow who booms those real estate lots that are a couple of miles from shore. His slouch hat and baggy trousers do not set him up as a potential treasure trove explorer. Nevertheless he is earnest.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 27.

The best thing I have seen in a political speech was where Chairman Raskob said he had 11 children.

That's wonderful. If more men in politics would raise children instead of "issues" we would have a bigger and better country. No wonder Al wanted to swing him over to his side.

New York is getting their disguises ready, and memorizing the various names they are to vote under all day November 6th.

Coolidge gave Mary and Doug lunch, but took nothing off their income tax.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

What Makes Big Business Men Popular; Bulls Bullish?

By B. C. FORBES

BUSINESS leaders are judged by what they contribute to the world, not by what they collect from it.

This was brought out very forcefully at the memorable banquet tendered seven "pioneers of American industry" in New York this week. The vast audience always applauded references to what this or that pioneer had done for the benefit of his fellow men.

Edison aroused the greatest demonstration of all. A reference of the geniality and warm-heartedness of Charles M. Schwab also struck an extremely responsive chord. Ford was very loudly applauded. When Julius Rosenwald's philanthropies were mentioned the audience broke into cheers. Orville Wright also got what the theatrical people call a "good hand." George Eastman, although he has wisely distributed many millions in recent years, apparently was less well known, as was the case with Harvey S. Firestone.

LORD MELCHETT, formerly Sir Alfred Mond, the chemical king of Europe, who made a notable address, was most loudly applauded when he condemned mere selfish money-making as being unworthy of any real human being, and extolled individual, corporate, national and international efforts to raise the status of ordinary folks and to bring about all-around amity, happiness and prosperity. Neither this very large employer of labor nor his distinguished father ever experienced labor troubles, notwithstanding that labor troubles have plagued almost every employer and every industry in Europe since the war. Obviously, this conspicuously successful industrialist must have practiced what he preaches.

The theme of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's address in presenting the pioneers was "gain and service." Gain without service, he emphasized, was not laudable. But he pointed out how the spirit of service was taking wider and wider possession of industry in this country. Not one of the pioneers being honored that evening had distinguished themselves merely as money-makers, but each, he declared, had sought to render genuine public service.

ONE veteran business leader sitting at my elbow (Frank Seamon, dean of the advertising profession) remarked to me: "This is a wonderful country. Not one of these seven men had a grandfather known to the public—nor even a well-known father—nor a rich father. They have all lifted themselves up."

My own mind went back to the early days of stress and struggle related to me by nearly all the honored pioneers. Edison hadn't a nickel in his pocket when he first struck New York and begged a cup of tea from a tea taster. Henry Ford's early struggles we all know about. Schwab was paid a dollar a day when he got his first steel mill job after having driven a stage coach and served behind a grocery counter; later his wife gave up her tiny sitting room that Charlie might fit up a laboratory.

George Eastman struggled along as a clerk to support a widowed mother and contracted such a horror of poverty that many a night he was haunted by nightmares of coming poverty even after he had become several times a millionaire. At one time things went so badly with his photographic plate-making that he had to shut his plant and his hair turned white in two weeks.

NOT one of the seven holds a college degree—except that all of them have since received honorary degrees from universities.

All of the foregoing carries encouragement for the rest of us.

STOCK market operators are interested in the return from Europe yesterday of W. C. Durant, recognized as the kingpin of the bulls. The so-called "big ten" are still actively manipulating the market and expressing confidence that the rise will continue. They proclaim that Hoover's election, which they take for granted, will give the market a fresh lease of life.

Meanwhile, there is every indication that strenuous efforts are being made to unload accumulations of different boomed stocks.

CHRISTMAS trade promises to break all records.

STOCKS STAGE REMARKABLE COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(AP.)—The stock market today staged rather a remarkable comeback, considering the violence of yesterday's belated break, sober consideration of the factors governing current speculation apparently leading to the conviction that the precipitate selling had been overdone.

There was such a rush to buy that prices in today's brief session were speedily lifted 3 to 12 points. The ticker fell nearly 15 minutes behind the market and total sales probably exceeded 1,500,000 shares.

Some of the advances were startling. Radio climbed 12 points to 237½, or within striking distance of the peak, while Western Union, which has been linked with Radio in current gossip suggesting closer affiliations, rose 11 points to 195, the best price in all time.

It was a broad market generally today, with the higher priced shares, as a rule, moving to levels substantially above the previous close. There were gains of 8½ points in Montgomery Ward, 7¼ in Allied Chemical, 6¾ in Atlantic Refining (old), and 6 in R. H. Macy. Advances of 5 to 6½ points were made by Greene Cananea, Commercial Solvents, Union Carbide, American International and Murray Corporation, such representative issues as General Motors, United States Steel, American Smelting, Curtiss, Gold Dust, Timken Roller Bearing and Matheson Alkali.

Railroad shares were active and kept well up with the procession, St. Louis Southwestern rising 5¾ points to a new high price at 122⅜. Some new high prices for the year, or longer, also were established by moderate and low-priced industrials, notably Jordan Motor and Best & Co.

The closing was strong.

NEWS AND VIEWS

Trade Progress Encouraging.

Dun's weekly trade review says: "With favorable features still predominating, the month now closing has been, on the whole, a period of encouraging commercial progress. In contrast to the movements in certain speculative channels, the course of general trade has remained orderly, and nothing in the present situation suggests any deviation from this gratifying condition. Even with a national election near at hand, there continues to be a conspicuous absence of uneasiness in business circles with no indication that political considerations are causing special hesitation. Such weak spots as prevail are due to other elements, and the unsatisfactory aspects are outnumbered and outweighed by those of an opposite character. With a few exceptions, the trend in the major lines this autumn has been toward expansion, and in some instances the gains have been rather more marked than was commonly expected. Apart from the quite unusual buoyancy of the steel industry, which holds first rank in point of activity, the recovery in the textile branches is a significant and reassuring development. Weekly bank clearings $11,809,406,000, an increase of 18.6 per cent over a year ago."

Stocks Not Too High—Durant.

Returning from Europe, William C. Durant stated we were witnessing a rising bull market and that he was still of the staunch conviction that the prices of good stocks will continue to seek higher levels. "For the past year," he said, "we have heard the constant cry that prices of stocks are too high. I most decidedly disagree. It is not that prices of good stocks are too high, but rather that a year ago prices were much too low." Mr. Durant predicted that General Motors at the next meeting of directors would in all likelihood split the common stock 2½ for 1 and that the new stock would sell at about 120 a share, which would be equal to 300 for the present stock. Also returning on the Berengaria was Charles Fisher, of Fisher Body Corporation, who also is a director of General Motors Corporation.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Prices held around yesterday's levels in quiet early trading in the bond market today. There was some disposition to take profits for the week-end, especially in the railroad group, but most of the list and particularly the convertibles responded to the improvement in stock prices.

Seaboard Air Line 6s and Erie 5s were prominent among the rails to move lower, although the declines were small. Coppers, steels and oils again were in demand, without much change in price. Buying centered on Chile Copper 5s, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 5s and Standard Oil of New Jersey 5s.

The foreign list was steady. There was little activity among the U. S. government obligations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

PRICES NARROW, STOCKS QUIET IN LOCAL MARKET

ARMSTRONG CORK FIRM, CARNEGIE SELLS DOWN

Prices continued to fluctuate in a narrow range on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange during the short week-end session today.

There was no reflection here of the spirited recovery executed by the list on the New York Stock Exchange when trading opened this morning. Trading here was fairly well scattered, but the volume of business was light. Allegheny Trust Company shares attracted interest in the first hour when three odd lots of the stock changed hands at 330, an advance of 80 points over the last previous close. Armstrong Cork was firm and slightly higher, while Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt was off a fraction. Neither issue, however, was active. The fuels were dull with bids and offers showing no important changes from the quotations prevailing in the late market yesterday.

Carnegie Metals was offered down again and reached 22 as compared with yesterday's high of 23. There has been good support of the stock around the 22 level since the last run-up, which took the stock up to 25. With the improvement in the metal markets and the resumption of operations at the Veta Grande and El Bote mines following a shut-down due to machinery damage, friends of Carnegie are more confident than ever that the company will show increasing earnings over the coming months.

Westinghouse Electric moved higher in New York, responding further to the excellent earnings statement issued by the company on Thursday. Only one lot of the stock was handled here, the local trade being made at 111½, comparing with a price above 113 in the late trading on the "big board." On the other hand, Westinghouse Airbrake displayed a heavy tone and sold under 44 several times during the session.

FIVE CONCERNS SHOW 70 PCT. INCREASE

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

THE earnings of five leading independent steel companies which reported profits this week were 70 per cent greater in the third quarter of this year than in the same period of 1927. The three months ended September 30 showed better earnings than in the second quarter of this year in the case of three of the companies.

The five steel producers reported net income of $12,916,113, compared with $7,586,071 a year ago.

The increase shown by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation was particularly noteworthy. This company has its operations concentrated in the Pittsburgh district. Although it is the second largest independent producer in volume, its profits of $4,504,905 in the third quarter were greater than those of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, which leads it in tonnage.

The improvement shown in steel company earnings this year has made it possible for two of the companies included in the figures to increase the returns to stockholders. Jones & Laughlin declared an extra dividend of $1 a share, and the Gulf States Steel Company resumed dividends on the common stock with a declaration of $1 a share.

BETHLEHEM STEEL earned $1.43 a share on its common stock in the third quarter and $3.94 a share in the nine months, but directors did not resume dividends. Since the company has completed its expansion program, however, it is likely that the common stock will be placed on a dividend basis in the near future.

A table of the earnings of the five companies in the third quarter of this year, compared with the same period of 1927, follows:

	1928	1927
J. & L.	$4,504,905	$2,607,031
Bethlehem	4,272,528	2,788,053
Republic	1,280,775	501,992
Youngstown	2,717,965	1,538,813
Gulf States	139,850	150,182
Total	$12,916,023	$7,586,071

STEEL mill operations continue at the rapid pace established at the end of the second quarter. The higher prices now being received lead to the belief that fourth-quarter earnings of many companies will be greater than those of the third quarter. The present rate of activity, with deliveries of many products deferred for several weeks, indicates that there will be no very marked slump at the end of the year. Production is between 85 per cent and 90 per cent of capacity.

A factor which has contributed to the increase in the earnings of some companies such as the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation has been lower coal costs. Last year many steel producers piled coal in the fear of a shortage from the strike which started on April 1, 1927. This was an uneconomical procedure, although it contributed materially to the defeat of the union. It cost steel producers about 50 cents a ton to pile coal and then to pick it up and transport it to boilers or coke ovens. This increased costs last year. Coal costs this year have been further reduced by the fact that many of the mines have been placed on a non-union basis.

Two local companies whose figures were not included in the tabulation showed exceptionally good earnings in the third quarter. Both of these are makers of pipe. Pittsburgh Steel had one of the best quarters in two years, and Spang-Chalfant also showed a substantial increase.

If the results of the independent companies are any indication, the United States Steel Corporation should also make a very satisfactory statement next Tuesday.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 7 points and developed a slightly firmer tone which carried prices up 8 to 11 points above the previous close on week-end covering and more or less trade buying prompted by a steadier tone to the Liverpool cables and evidences of a firmer technic position resulting from the recent heavy liquidation. December advanced to 19.21c and March to 19.16c, and during the early session held steady, although the volume of business was not large. Indications of large trade orders slightly under the market appeared to have a sustaining influence and there was a noticeable falling off in the volume of liquidation and hedge selling. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 168,600 bales against 156,579 last year.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

FREEDOM'S SYMBOL

By LILY WANDEL

MARIBEL walked into that particular nook of the little restaurant where she and Gene had their late after-work suppers and was distinctly annoyed to find it empty. He had been late before and she had never given it a thought, but tonight with Aunt Ellen's letter crackling in her pocket, she began making comparisons. "Roger," she reflected seating herself with a faint sigh, "would have broken his neck to be here on time." Not that she ever had had late suppers with Roger.

"Hello! Beat me to it?" Gene slipped into the bench opposite and smiled at her in such a manner that for a moment she was released from the weight of Aunt Ellen's letter. "Dutch Hern held me up with a tale of woe, his wife's in the hospital, so I couldn't break away," and then to the waiter, "Two oyster stews cooked with cream. And now," he leaned forward, "Tell me, Maribel, did you accept that Reynold position."

She made a little gesture of indecision. "I wrote to Aunt Ellen about it—she has such excellent judgment. The salary would be less to start, but the work would be fascinating."

"I see. Have you heard from her?"

Maribel paused while the waiter placed the bowls of steaming oyster stew before them. Then she said slowly: "Yes, she's coming tomorrow."

Gene raised his eyebrows ever so slightly and smiled. "Is that so depressing? Your favorite aunt? Let's show the old lady a good time."

Maribel opened a pair of amused, black velvety eyes. "Old lady?" she asked, "why Aunt Ellen is only a few years older than yourself."

Gene grinned. "I'm going to make a hit with her, since you value her judgment so mightily."

Maribel said slowly, "She's always influenced me and somehow I like it. Even through her letter, I'm charmed by her personality. She's been simply wonderful—always."

"Then why," asked Gene with a slight frown, "so blue?"

"She wrote that she's bringing Roger along," Maribel said just above a whisper.

Gene pushed his stew aside and concentrated upon lighting a cigaret. "I see," he remarked finally.

"You don't see at all!" contradicted Maribel in a stormy voice and then pleading, "Gene, let me explain—I must tell somebody." She laid her hand on the table hoping he would cover with his own, but he seemed to be completely occupied with his cigaret ashes. "I've known Roger ever since grammar school, we sort of grew up together and Aunt Ellen showed me what fine qualities he has. I didn't know I was in love with him until the night before I left home—almost a year ago—" she caught her breath. "I promised to marry him that night."

Gene nodded carelessly. "Emotionalism. Lots of people do that before they leave. They get panic-stricken and want a life saver's line before they start out to sea."

She shook her head. "I wrote to him every day.

"Naturally. Just lonesomeness."

"Then I began to meet people and wrote twice a week, but Roger wrote faithfully, every single day. After I met you he was lucky to get one letter in two or three weeks, but he kept right on with his daily letters. I'd find one when I'd come in late, after I'd been out with you. Somehow it always stabbed me, the sight of that big white envelope. Like a reproach, though he never wrote anything but the kindest, nicest things. Then I sent back his ring and told him not to write anymore."

"Well," he asked sharply, "what's the matter? Do you regret that?"

"I knew you wouldn't understand," she flung back helplessly. "There was an awful silence for awhile, even Aunt Ellen didn't write and when she did her letter kind of chilled me. She mentioned that Roger looked thin and haggard and—I knew I was to blame. And the next time she wrote that Roger was sick, wouldn't I write him a little note? But I didn't. And then she wrote me that she had sent him a box of roses with one of my cards enclosed."

"That's the limit!"

"He wrote me such a nice letter, Gene. I realized that he was all Aunt Ellen said he was—fine, faithful and good. He didn't write again, but Aunt Ellen has never stopped writing about him, just little things he did that sort of stabbed me like those white big envelopes. And now she's bringing him to the city tomorrow."

Gene's eyes narrowed and his mouth formed a grim, hard line. He squashed his cigaret and smiled but only with his lips. "Maribel," he touched her hand lightly, "there's your freedom back. Feel better? You can meet Aunt Ellen and Roger at the station tomorrow, safe with your woman's prerogative, waving your flag of liberty!"

Maribel went to bed hoping that she would get very sick in the night and that instinct would call loudly for the man she wanted. When 2 o'clock found her perfectly healthy she fastened her hopes on the morning air. Aunt Ellen always said morning was the time for clear thinking.

The weather at 7:30 was as undecided as Maribel. The wind seemed to come from every direction and the sun was out one minute and behind a heavy cloud the next, when Maribel trotted out for breakfast.

Attracted by a riot of color in an attractive window display of scarfs she stopped. One scarf in particular, of clear vivid red with yellow dragons printed on it, fascinated her. It was the kind of scarf one could discern at least a block away. She was conscious of a little wistful longing to possess it. Over in the corner was one Aunt Ellen would surely select, a soft blending of rose and tan. Maribel's eyes traveled back to the red and yellow affair. It seemed to her like a flag of liberty. Suddenly she wanted it, madly, passionately, if only for the reason that it was a product of her own decision.

No wonder Gene, walking into the office building, was suddenly stopped by a vivid red and yellow scarf floating on the morning breeze. It was both a signal and magnet, for he moved toward it, fascinated and curious.

"Gene!" Maribel's voice in a soft excited little gasp. "Do you like my new scarf? It's my choice!" she told him emphatically, "I'm going to wear it to the station—if you'll come with me!" Her eyes said the rest most eloquently.

Gene squeezed her fingers so that they hurt deliciously. "Maribel, forgive me for last night, will you? I was mad with jealously and unhappiness. I know I can't measure up to Roger but—"

"Don't you dare! I don't want anything or anybody that meets Aunt Ellen's requirements. You're my choice, like this scarf and the Reynolds proposition. I knew I loved you just as soon as I saw this scarf. I had to buy it, as a symbol of my liberty!" She laughed softly. "Nobody shall ever rob me of the joy of making my own decisions again!"

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

SENATOR GEORGE W. NORRIS of Nebraska, who broke the ranks of the Republican party to support Gov. Alfred E. Smith for the presidency on the Democratic ticket, will tell the radio audience about his sudden shift of allegiance in a nation wide hookup tonight at 9 o'clock. Station WJAS will broadcast the talk in Pittsburgh. Prior to Senator Norris' talk the Democratic chieftain will take the air in his own behalf, speaking over the WEAF network at 8 p. m. Station WCAE will broadcast the talk in Pittsburgh.

The Republicans take it easy tonight. The only talks scheduled are from New York over the WJZ network at 9 o'clock. Hanford MacNider and Julius Rosenwald will be heard in Pittsburgh over KDKA on this program.

CLASSICAL MUSIC

An unusual band program that merits its title "Symphony in Brass," will be presented over WCAE at 9 o'clock tonight. Selections include "Men of Harlech March," Schubert's "Marche Militaire," ballet music from "Faust," and Elsa's Entering the Cathedral, from "Lohengrin." The program opens with an overture to Rossini's "Italians in Algiers," and closes with Beethoven's entrancing "Minuet in G."

"March of the Three Musketeers" is a feature of the Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra program at 10 p. m. Broadway tunes will dominate. "Lila," "Limehouse Blues," "Tin Pan Parade," "Together," "Pan Americana" and "Romberg Waltz Revue" are some of the numbers.

The popular song, "You Bet I Do," opens the Twin Pairs of Harmony act at 11:01 o'clock. "Soliloquy," by Bloom, and Glogau's "Lady Fingers" will be the piano duets, and the vocal duo will present the selections, "I Wanted Someone to Love" and "High Up on a Hill Top."

"KATINKA" FROM KDKA

As usual KDKA will broadcast to Commander Richard E. Byrd and his crew in the Antarctic and the Canadian Mounted Police tonight at 11 o'clock, following dance selections by Don Bestor's Orchestra. "Katinka," a musical play in three acts, by Rudolf Friml, is the Philco Hour feature at 8 p. m.

EAST LIBERTY TO HAVE NEW DOW STORE

The Dow Drug Company, formerly known as the McCulloch Drug Company, is opening a new store in East End today. It is located at 5939 Penn avenue, near Highland avenue.

All of the McCulloch stores have been merged into the Pittsburgh unit of the Dow Drug Company, a large drug concern that maintains a chain of stores in Ohio and Kentucky, with headquarters in Cincinnati. Hereafter they are to be known as Dow stores.

The new East End store is the three hundred and seventeenth store in the Dow organization.

The store is equipped with a large and modern soda fountain. It also features a variety of toilet requisites, as well as fully equipped departments of home remedies and surgical supplies. The store carries a complete line of bristle goods and rubber goods. A portion of the store's space is devoted to gift novelties.

The location at 5939 Penn avenue places Dow's in an excellent position to render service to the East End district, F. W. M. McCulloch pointed out.

Mr. McCulloch also stated that two other Dow stores will be opened in the downtown district within the next fortnight.

Shall Article Nine, Section Eight, of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows?

Section 8. The debt of any city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as provided herein and in section fifteen of this article, shall never exceed seven (7) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, and the debt of any county except as provided in section fifteen of this article shall never exceed ten (10) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein, but the debt of the city of Philadelphia may be increased in such amount that the total city debt of said city shall not exceed fourteen (14) per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable realty therein, nor shall any such county, municipality, or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two (2) per centum upon such assessed valuation of taxable realty in the case of counties, or taxable property in the case of other municipalities or districts, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but the city of Philadelphia may incur any debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount not exceeding three per centum of the valuation of taxable realty in said city without the consent of the electors. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia at any time there shall be deducted from such debt so much of the debt of said city as shall have been incurred or is about to be incurred and the proceeds thereof expended or about to be expended upon any public improvement, or in the construction, purchase, or condemnation of any public utility or part thereof, or facility therefor to the extent that such public improvement or public utility or part thereof, whether separately or in connection with any other public improvement or public utility or part thereof, may yield or may reasonably be expected to yield revenue in excess of operating expenses for or towards the payment of the interest and sinking-fund charges thereon. The method of determining such amount so to be deducted shall be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations, maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date thereof, with provisions for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligations at maturity; the payment to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded, annual, or other periodical installments. Where any indebtedness shall be or shall have been incurred by said city of Philadelphia for the purpose of the construction or improvements of public works or utilities of any character from which income or revenue is to be derived by said city or for the reclamation of land to be used in the constretion of wharves or docks owned or to be owned by said city, such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred, and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten, article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiraton of said period of one year after the completion of said work.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 12.

Shall Article Nine of the Constitution be amended by adding thereto a section which reads as follows?

Section 1 B. Taxation laws may grant exemptions or rebates to residents, or estates or residents, of other States which grant similar exemptions or rebates to residents, or estates of residents, of Pennsylvania.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 13

Shall Article Eight Section Seven of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows?

Section 7. All laws regulating the holding of elections by the citizens or for the registration of electors, shall be uniform throughout the State, except that laws regulating and requiring the registration of electors may be enacted to apply to cities only, provided that such laws be uniform for cities of the same class, and except further, that the General Assembly shall, by general law, permit the use of voting machines, or other mechanical devices for registering or recording and computing the vote, at all elections or primaries, in any county, city, borough or township of the Commonwealth, at the option of the electors of such county, city, borough or township, without being obliged to require the use of such voting machines or mechanical devices in any other county, city, borough or township, under such regulations with reference thereto as the General Assembly may from time to time prescribe. The General Assembly may from time to time, prescribe the number and duties of election officers in any political subdivision of the Commonwealth in which voting machines or other mechanical devices authorized by this section may be used.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION NO. 14.

Shall Article Fifteen of the Constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section Four thereof?

Section 4. The General Assembly is hereby authorized to provide for the consolidation of the county, poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of the county of Allegheny, and the offices thereof, into a consolidated city and county, with the constitutional and legal capacity of a municipal corporation, to be known as the City of Pittsburgh, and to provide for a charter for its government. The said charter shall be submitted to the electors of said county, at a special election to be provided for therein. If the majority of the electors voting thereon, in the county as a whole, and at least two-thirds of all the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof, vote in the affirmative, the act shall take effect for the whole county. If rejected, the said charter may be resubmitted to the electors in original new or modified form, at any subsequent election until adopted.

It shall be competent, subject to the police power of the State, for the Legislature to provide in said charter:

1. For the exercise, by the consolidated city, of all of the powers and duties vested in the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and such other powers appropriate to a municipality as may be specified therein, except such powers as are specifically reserved by this section to the municipal divisions herein provided for.

2. For the election, by the people of the consolidated city, of a board of commissioners, the number to be fixed by the charter, in lieu of present county commissioners, in which board shall be vested all the powers of the consolidated city and county, except as otherwise provided in the charter.

3. For the organization of a government for the consolidated city and county, and for the election or appointment of the constitutional and other necessary officers thereof, and for their powers and duties.

4. For the organization of all courts, other than those of record, in the consolidated city, and for the procedure thereof, and for the appointment of judges and officers thereof, which courts shall exercise the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace and such other powers as may be conferred by law.

5. For the transfer to the consolidated city of the property and indebtedness of the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and of such property and indebtedness of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof as relate to the powers and duties of said consolidated city, and to provide for an equitable adjustment and payment of such indebtedness, and for this purpose, any taxation therein shall be uniform taxation within the meaning and intent of other provisions of this Constitution.

6. For the assessment of property for taxation, the levying and collection of taxes, and the payment of the cost of any public improvement, in whole or in part, by special assessment upon abutting and non-abutting property materially benefited thereby, and, for this purpose, real estate so charged shall be classified as urban, suburban and rural, and assessments made in accordance with such classifications.

7. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of districts for the purpose of regulating the location, height, area, bulk and use of buildings and premises.

8. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of special districts for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, maintaining, operating or contracting for any public property, work, improvement, utility or service, not for the exclusive benefit of any one municipal division, and for the payment of the costs and maintenance of such property, work, improvement, utility or service there may be special taxes levied throughout such special districts respectively, separate and apart from the general city tax:

Provided, however, That it is the intent of this section that substantial powers be reserved to the cities, boroughs and townships situated in Allegheny County. To this end the charter shall provide for the continued existence of the said cities, boroughs and townships, as municipal divisions of the consolidated city, under their present names and forms of government, subject to the laws provided for government of municipalities of their respective forms and classes, except as provided in the charter, and with their present boundaries, provided that the city of Pittsburgh may be designated by a term other than city and may be divided into two or more municipal divisions, and that any two or more municipal divisions of the consolidated city may, with the consent of a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of such divisions at any general or special election be united to form a single municipal division.

The said municapal divisions shall have and continue to possess the following powers:

1. The constitutional and legal capacity of municipal corporations, except as limited in the charter.

2. The power to lay and collect taxes and to incur indebtedness, subject to the limitations which are or may be imposed by law upon cities, boroughs or townships of corresponding classification, for the purpose of carrying out any lawful power of said divisions.

3. The power to acquire, own, construct, maintain, operate or contract for all kinds of public property, works, improvements, utilities or services, which shall be within the municipal division, and principally for the use and benefit of the inhabitants thereof, provided this power shall not be taken to include the construction and maintenance of through-traffic streets and bridges, tunnels, subways and appurtenances thereof, nor main or trunk lines for sewer, power and water service, running through more than one municipal division, and designated as such by the board of commissioners.

4. The power to maintain a local police force, and local fire department, with the necessary buildings, appurtenances and equipment therefor, which may be supplemental to the police force and fire department of the consolidated city.

5. The power to establish a limitation of indebtedness for the consolidated city and the municipal divisions thereof, provided that the total of the indebtedness of the consolidated city and the municipal divisions thereof shall not in the aggregate, exceed the limits of the total indebtedness allowed by the Constitution to the county and to the separate municipalities.

6. All other powers not specifically granted by the charter to the consolidated city: Provided, however, That a municipal division may surrender, by majority vote of the electors voting thereon at any general or special election, any of its powers to the consolidated city, subject to the acceptance thereof by the board of commissioners.

The said charter may be amended by the Legislature, subject to ratification by a majority of the electors of the consolidated city voting thereon at any general or special election: Provided, That no amendment reducing the powers of municipal divisions shall be effective unless ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of said divisions.

We Need Navy Equal to Best of Other Nations

The kind of pacifism which would take all locks from the door of a house and all police from the streets of a city and all necessary defense from our great country has weakened the United States Navy until it is far below parity with Great Britain.

We were assured of at least parity by our statesmen when we destroyed $300,000,000 of capital ships in the naval disarmament conference at Washington in 1921.

Since then new naval construction in this country has been halted while we have pursued the will-of-the-wisp of further "disarmament" meetings—where perhaps other nations would agree to do some disarming to match our sacrifice of 1921.

1—First, we sent a delegation to the preparatory commission on disarmament of the League of Nations, which met to agree on a program for the League to consider. They broke up without agreeing.

2—Next, in 1927, President Coolidge asked the five chief naval powers to meet and talk disarmament in Geneva. So we held a rump parliament with England and Japan, which broke up in a quarrel. England would consent to limit only those kinds of cruisers which we need and not the kind she needed.

3—England and France then began to meet secretly to unite upon a naval policy, directed against the United States, which they agreed to support at the next disarmament meeting, whenever held. The New York American secured and published a copy of this agreement. In England it aroused a storm of protest against what was called by English newspapers a "conspiracy" against the United States. In France it resulted in an order of expulsion for the American newspaperman who revealed the "conspiracy."

While we were chasing these mirages, other nations were building cruisers. Today, in this important type of vessel, England has approximately 400,000 tons, Japan 200,000 and the United States 150,000 tons, including everything built, building or appropriated for.

Pacifist propaganda in Washington played a large role in preventing the Senate from joining the House in passing the naval construction bill last May, providing 15 new cruisers and one aircraft carrier. Even if that bill had been passed we would still have been 100,000 cruiser tons behind Great Britain.

This newspaper believes in peace, but disagrees with the policy of the pusillanimous pacifists. We do not agree that the United States Navy has to be crippled in order to save us from war.

We believe that it is safer to trust the United States government with a strong United States Navy than it is to trust foreign governments with a weak United States Navy.

We believe that our country deserves a first class defense, and that a first class defense of this country means a Navy adequate for defense against any nation in the world.

We believe Congress is neglecting its first duty to the American people when it fails to provide the nation with a Navy the equal of any other.

We believe a strong defensive power to be necessary for our nation in the world as it is organized today—necessary not for any aggressive act but to secure peace and protection for our own people against the aggressive acts of hostile and warlike foreign nations who hate us and envy us and who plot and plan to depose us from our world leadership.

We would not make war upon any nation in the world, and if we are strong in defense no nation will make war upon us.

The pacifists had their fling. Now let the patriots have theirs.

Prepare for Indictments But Work Is Unfinished

The grand jury, having completed five weeks of investigation into the charges that the city is vice-ridden and that our police have protected for profit the operations of bootleggers, gamblers, dive keepers and the slot machine ring, now is engaged in formulating a presentment to court, under the direction of District Attorney Gardner. It has heard many witnesses, including A. W. Forney, slot machine magnate, now serving a federal sentence.

Mr. Gardner has stated that the probe has developed sufficient evidence to bring about a large number of indictments of racketeers, politicians and police officials. According to his own admissions at various times since the inquiry began he "has the goods on them."

That is satisfying to the decent citizens of Pittsburgh, who have waited long and patiently for something to be done about graft in Pittsburgh—and still are waiting. It now is indicated that the day of reckoning is near for some of those who have brought shame upon the city, but if the housecleaning be not thorough it will be no credit to the officials in charge.

One thing that Mr. Gardner has not touched is the matter of magistrates failing to hold for court those charged with other than minor offenses. That is especially interesting in view of the fact that Magistrate George England made a fine in disposing of a case of that kind even after the court had warned that magistrates must not continue that practice.

Welfare Bonds Are Urged As Worthy of Support

There are so many constitutional amendments to be voted upon in the November election that there is danger of overlooking one worthy of support, so we have heard special appeals in behalf of several. Such an appeal was made here at a luncheon attended by 400 persons who heard Owen J. Roberts speak in behalf of Amendment No. 10.

This authorizes the state, but does not require it, to issue bonds as may be needed to the extent of $50,000,000, "for the acquisition of lands and buildings and the construction of improvements in state-owned buildings and the equipment thereof," etc.

Specifically, the purpose is to relieve overcrowding in mental hospitals and penal institutions and for the erection of a colony for epileptics (authorized by the Legislature, with only initial appropriation), an institution for the criminal feeble-minded and a psychopathic hospital in each half of the state.

The project is termed the Welfare Bond Issue and it is being urged by many prominent citizens of the state as a committee, the membership of which includes Mayor Charles H. Kline, Edwin W. Smith, Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., and J. Rogers Flannery, of Pittsburgh.

Bible Passages

The Unjust Judge

(Luke 18; 1-14)

AND he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint;

Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, Thou I fear not God, nor regard man;

Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Our Highways

AMERICAN tourists this year are spending at the rate of three million dollars a day in foreign countries.

Nobody knows how much of that sum would be spent in the United States if we had a national transcontinental system of motor routes to let the people travel comfortably and rapidly to the scenic wonders and the urban attractions of their own country.

It would be a fine thing for the country if some of the fifteen hundred million dollars now being exported every year to develop foreign countries were used to complete our trans-continental highways.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

The Small Towner

YOU were raised in a large city. Your contacts with persons from smaller places have been limited.

If you are like many of those reared in a large city you have an idea that people from smaller places are, for the most part, ignorant.

You feel that they have had no opportunities to enjoy the advantages you have had all your life.

But you forget that there may be more time for reading and study.

The radio and the automobile are great educators.

Aside from physical contact with your great points of interest and how to get there they may be more familiar with what is to be seen in your big city than you, in spite of the fact that you have lived your life time in the metropolis.

Then a visit to the places of which they have read makes the small town man or woman more intelligent about these things than you are, perhaps.

Don't despise the small town folk for their ignorance.

You are liable to find out to your humiliation, possibly, that they know more about what is going on than you do.

Are there not many things of national interest about your big city of which you have only superficial knowledge?

Better brush up and get acquainted with your own city.

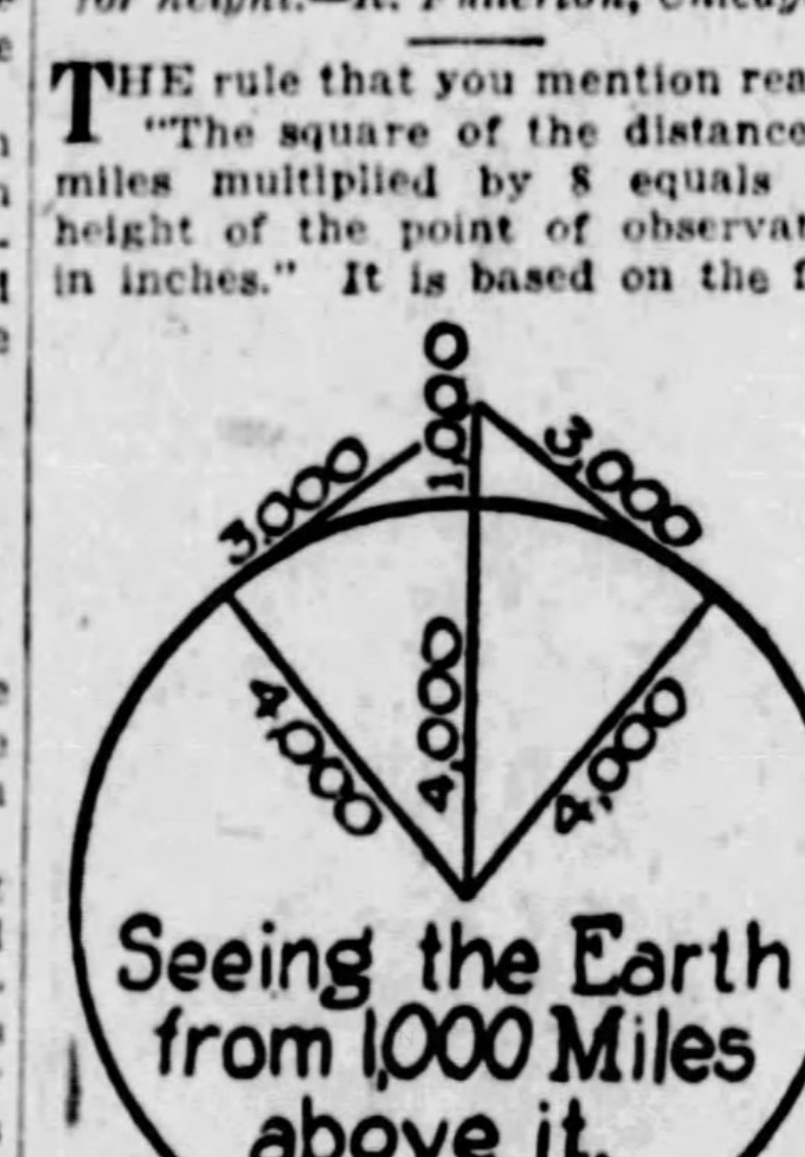
SEEING ROUND GLOBE

By Garrett P. Serviss

"I have a scrap-book almost filled with your articles, and I want more light on one of them. Writing about seeing Gary, Ind., from Chicago, you gave figures showing the height that an observer would have to be in order to see an object on the horizon thirty miles away, which differs from those obtained by using a formula that I was taught. You squared the distance and divided by two, which gave 450 feet for the height. My rule is: Multiply the square of distance by eight and divide the product by 12 which gives 600 feet for height.—R. Fullerton, Chicago."

THE rule that you mention reads: "The square of the distance in miles multiplied by 8 equals the height of the point of observation in inches." It is based on the fact that the earth rounds off 8 inches in the first mile. This is geometrically correct, but it neglects the effect of the atmospheric refraction, which is always noticeable at the horizon. But the rule which I used takes account of the average refraction. It may be put in the same form as the other, but with 6 substituted for 8 as multiplier. It was original, as far as I know, with Prof. Richard A. Proctor, who proved it practically during sea trips. He put it in the form: "Square root of twice the height in feet equals the distance in miles."



This reversed becomes: "Half the square of the distance in miles equals the height in feet," which is the shape in which I used the formula.

Another interested reader in Chicago asks, on the same subject: "Assuming the sand hills at Michigan City, 60 miles away, to be 100 feet in height, how would that affect the formula for the height of the observer seeing them from Chicago? Also, does the formula hold good for a distance equal to a quarter of the circumference of the earth?"

As to the first part of this question, the elevation of the top of the sand hills 100 feet above water level would for the purposes of this calculation shorten the distance by about 14.14 miles (the distance of the horizon from a height of 100 feet). So, the observer in Chicago would have to be high enough to see 45.86 miles. This height, by the formula, would be half the square of 45.86, or about 1,052 feet.

For calculation involving very great distances around the earth, a different formula should be employed. The point of view would then be far beyond the upper limit of the atmosphere, and a simple geometrical relation would suffice. One would have to be at an infinite distance to see the complete diameter of the earth. But if we suppose the observer to be, say 1,000 miles high, his distance from the point where a line from his eye is tangent to the earth (see diagram) may be found from the old Euclid proposition that the square of the hypothenuse of any right angled triangle equals the sum of the squares of the other two sides. Apply in this way:

Add 1,000 to the 4,000 miles of the earth's radius, getting 5,000; take the square, which is 25,000,000, and from it subtract the square of the radius, which is 16,000,000, leaving 9,000,000, the square root of which, 3,000, is the distance from the eye to the point of tangency.

Tales That Are Told

Safety First

A CERTAIN minister who was making a voyage, expressed strong disapproval of the language used by the sailors.

The captain of the boat agreed, but declared that whenever they were threatened with real danger the crew ceased swearing.

As it happened, a storm blew up soon after, and the minister was very worried.

"It's very rough," he remarked to a steward. "Are the sailors swearing?"

"They are indeed," said the steward candidly.

"Thank Heaven!" and the minister breathed a sigh of relief.

Not Strong Enough

AS a train was leaving the country station it suddenly parted in the middle. The communication cord broke immediately and hung loose.

"Gracious me!" gasped an old lady standing on the platform. "What ever has happened?"

"The train has broken in two, madam," said a man who stood near her.

"And I should think so, too," returned the old lady indignantly, eyeing the dangling cord. "Did they imagine a thing like that would hold the train together?"

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

ALMOST anybody feels sorry for a convict, I reckon. You just can't help feeling that a guy that's locked up is being abused.

Well, there was a charitable club woman that went to Sing Sing to talk to the boys, so's to get material for a paper she had to read on prison reform. She got acquainted with a guy that was doing life for murder. She heard his story and cried.

When she was going out she says to the vic, "Well, boy, I'd like to do something for you. Are you allowed to have baskets in at Christmas?"

"Sure."

"Well, I'll remember to send you a good Christmas basket. Some cake and pie, and a plum pudding, anyway. What do you like in your plum pudding, my dear boy?"

"Why, the usual ingredients, with a bit of a saw and file stowed away somewhere."

Prayer

GREAT work is for great souls,
Adventuring
Beyond Earth's cares and doles
On lifted wing.
Untrammeled by the weight
Of pain or fear.
They toil with hearts elate
And vision clear.
To no such lofty heights
My hopes aspire.
For me, no rapt delights,
No sacred fire.
Some humbler work, instead,
Each day I ask
To keep my spirit fed
With hope, some task
Of love and patient strength
And honest zeal,
And thus, through years, at length
My prayer reveal.

New York Day by Day
by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The glitter of a Broadway night has the quick stimulation of a heady wine for the visitor. Few are conscious of the power of light to promote spending and yet one night several years ago when Broadway signs went dark business came to a full stop. Inside, the stores were as well lighted as ever.

The lights of Broadway have always provided a romantic glamour for a street that is little different from a thousand and one other streets in America. Without the effulgence, it is mostly a succession of small shops, quick lunches, movies and skyscrapers found everywhere.

In the calm clarity of daylight one sees nothing to distinguish it. There is, to be sure, the endless stream of humanity, but that may be found on any well traveled thoroughfare. The people appear no different from those in Seattle, Indianapolis or Bangor.

But when the millions of incandescents pop into a dazzle of rushing color and fire, the drab cheapness vanishes as mist in the sun. It flames into an indefinable dignity. People as colorless as those white wriggly things under old rocks take on sudden importance.

The mirrored little perfume shop seems enchanted, there is a witchery in the darkened chop suey parlors and a deceptive and alluring charm to gim-cracks we pass ordinarily without notice. The ladies in evening dress and the men in silk hats acquire the romantic halo of plumed knights and princesses.

The truth is that in the glare of light Broadway merely becomes self-conscious. Eyes grow brighter, color becomes more radiant, steps quicken and conversation volatile. Even old timers accustomed to Broadway's glare, feel a rise in their pulse when they turn from a dark street into Broadway. They want to cut-up.

Those who picture Broadway's fire as the beckoning beacon, a Lorelei luring thousands to mortgage the old home, are accustomed to the disdainful hoots. Even old timers, so close to its tragedies, are inclined to scoff. But the fact remains Broadway at night is a wicked street. And a dangerous street for those who do not watch their step.

The knotty servant question that became such a problem for New Yorkers who "keep house" shows signs of untangling. Many former servants who went into other sorts of work are returning to old posts. They found that with the high cost of living even a doubly high salary reduced their savings. This summer there was an over supply of servants for those owning homes in the country, and it is reported there will be plenty to go around for town apartments this winter. And that for many is within an inch or so of being just dandy.

My notion of a fellow with an idea is one who has opened an office on Madison avenue with a service most of us have needed at some time or other. For a small yearly fee, he will suggest telegrams of congratulations for newlyweds, notes of condolences to the bereaved and pretty phrasing for other incidents for which most of us have long ago run out of ideas. He guarantees duplications will never occur.

And still another idea to kick around. An agency furnishes uniformed young men for a dollar an hour to walk dogs. Only midtown cliff dwellers who own dogs and walk around with them, gazing at tall buildings and trying to look unconcerned, realize what a big help this is.

New York's divorce colony in Reno has found that city is also a Gretna Green. Husbands and wives go there to toss off matrimonial shackles and come back with new mates. More than a dozen New Yorkers have had this eventuate recently. Most of them depart swearing if they can just be free once more—never again! But misery loves company, pity is akin to love or how is your Aunt Ida? In any event resolutions fly out the window and back they come with a divorce and a new partner.

Southern flappers are artful in displaying an enthusiasm they do not feel. One of those Nettie Mays or Georgia Louises with a pronounced "you-all" met a matron whose glassy stare indicated a recent face lift. "You sho'ly are looking youngish, Mrs. Ella," cooed the flapper. "I almost mistook you for your granddaughter." Personally I didn't think the lady would last until she got home.

"IT IS ME"

By Dr. Frank Crane

There has always been a struggle between the customs of the people on the one hand and the grammarians on the other.

Language is fed by springs constantly coming up from the underground.

Correct speakers simply speak in accordance with the best customs. The only way to learn a language properly is to continue to associate with intelligent folk. To say that you talk correctly because you have always heard such and such a locution means that you talk correctly if you have always associated with a better class of people.

A superintendent of schools some time ago stated that it is quite proper to say "It is me" instead of "It is I," and a merry war was waged in the press throughout the country.

One side holds that "It is I" is correct, because it is in accordance with the rules of grammar. The other side contends that this sounds stilted, and that "It is me" sounds more pleasing to the ear.

Both are wrong.

They both err, in that they do not perceive what is the thing that makes good speech.

The true norm and criterion of correct diction is custom. That is, the custom of the most intelligent people.

Language, like law, is simply fixed and hardened custom.

It is not grammar that makes a language; it is language that creates grammar.

For instance, when Lowell speaks of "a book that is honestly come by," he uses a perfectly respectable and acceptable phrase, but one which defies grammar. It is correct, not by any rule, but because of common consent and usage.

It offends us to hear the gentleman from Texas inquire: "Mr. Speaker, where are we at?" But it surely is as grammatical to say "at where" as "in here" or "over there." There is just one reason why the locution is wrong; it is not used by the best people.

Good language is the way cultured and educated people talk. If they make mistakes and take liberties with the King's English, so may we.

On the other hand, it is not custom, that is, any sort of custom, that determines what is good speech. We may have been mingling with the wrong set.

We may have been used to hearing folk about us all our life say: "I hain't nuther" and "Air you got any ink in your pen?" But the trouble is that these people were hardly senators, diplomats, college professors and educated folk.

We have to admit that there is a deal of snobbery in deciding what is good English.

Language is a part of life. "Your speech betrayeth you." It is difficult to break yourself of ways of talking you learned when young.

OH, THESE WOMEN

By Leola Allard

A LOS ANGELES man was sued for divorce and the court refused the wife her decree.

"My, my, that's too bad," said the husband. "I'll have to abuse her so the little woman can get rid of me. She's a nice girl and she must get rid of a bum husband."

That's America!

A Chicago woman asks the court what to do about a husband who made her get up at 3 a. m. and make pancakes for him and his friend poker players. Then instead of eating said cakes, he used them for poker chips.

There is a resourceful fellow! Biscuits would have been too thick and potato chips too brittle.

A Chicago bridegroom of 16 days, says his bride proposed to him for three hours, steadily, and now, after 16 days, wants to walk out on him and collect alimony. "And I gave her $20 a day as long as it lasted," said the poor fellow.

He should have listened more closely to what she proposed.

And this same husband asked the court, "Is that 'cricket'?"

"No, indeed," said the court. "She doesn't get alimony in this court. No woman should have alimony, at least until the honeymoon is over."

They call it "cricket," but it is "dirty billiards."

The marriage class at the Y. W. C. A. has decided that "Neither the husband nor the wife should try to dominate. They should grow, side by side, and develop to the fullest their own personalities."

Now WHAT do you know about that!

Fresno, Cal., has an Indian who eats lip sticks. He says they "have elegant taste."

And the white man thought it was the kisses that tasted so elegant.

The women today wear what is estimated as one-tenth of what they wore 20 years ago.

In another 20 years what will be considered a Folly, Mr. Ziegfeld?

Fires

AN official of an American fire insurance company, just returned from Europe, notes the contrast between our average of one fire every minute with the experience of one European community which has had but one fire in a century.

Both these extremes may be bad. Ours certainly is. But Europe's is not much better.

When we burn out we rebuild in improved fashion. Thus our movement is ever forward. Europe's more static status suggests dry rot.

If we rebuilt wisely and were more careful we, too, could have fewer fires.
